Letter from the DIRECTOR

Econosmith.com

Pass it down.

DEAR FRIENDS,

Thank you for joining us this weekend as we celebrate our 40th year as Clearwater's Great Hudson River Revival. Prior to 1978, the Festival was a one-day event known as the Hudson Valley Folk Picnic. We have lots of great music performances and workshops, and opportunities to sing and dance, as well as many other offerings that you'll only see at Revival like: The Working Waterfront, where you can take rides on small boats as well as the sloop Clearwater or schooner Mystic Whaler; the Artisanal Food & Farm Market; the juried Handcrafters' Village; The Green Living Expo, The Marketplace and the Activists Area among others. You will also see Toshi and Pete Seeger's legacy and will feel their presence throughout the weekend.

2018 is also a big year for me personally, as I celebrated my 50th birthday in May. I've been spending a lot of time thinking about family, friends and community. Whether you knew it or not, when you stepped through the Rainbow Gate for the first time, you became part of the Clearwater community. And that's a very special thing.

Being part of family or community means experiencing life cycle events together. Since I became Festival Director in late 2009, we've lost Pete and Toshi and other friends of Clearwater. I lost my father and father-in-law, both of whom loved Revival. But I was also blessed with a beautiful daughter, now seven, who I've been bringing on stage with me to wish everyone a Happy Father's Day since 2011.

My daughter, Jadyn Rose, loves Revival. She has asked several times if she can take over for me when I step down. She sang "The Water is Wide" at Circle of Song last year. She talks a lot about Pete Seeger and loves to look at pictures of herself as a baby with him. She talks about what she's learned from Pete and from Clearwater. Last year at the Festival, friends of hers were throwing rocks into the river and she told them to stop and that Pete Seeger saved the Hudson River (this was, of course, just before she joined them and also started throwing rocks in the river too). She asks questions like "Why do people litter?" and gets really upset when she sees it happening. On Earth Day this year she walked around our neighborhood, picking up any trash she saw. She knows about the importance of recycling.

I've been thinking a lot about what knowledge and experiences I can pass down to my daughter. Some of these are directly related to things that she sees and hears at Revival. Because she attends the Festival and is learning important lessons at a young age, she's putting together the building blocks for becoming a person who deeply cares about our environment.

I often meet people at the Festival who are with their children and their children's children and they tell me about how many years they've attended Revival and how young their children were when they began attending. While many of you come to hear the music, please take some time to really look around the festival grounds to see what important environmental work Clearwater is doing. Take a ride on the Clearwater or Mystic Whaler with your family and friends. "Pass It Down" is a phrase that you'll see around the Festival (it's on our Festival T-shirts too). Passing down to friends or family what you've experienced or learned by attending Revival or being a member of Clearwater is of great importance. The more we discuss these kinds of issues, the more we help future generations to be kinder to the only planet we have.

This year's Revival theme is Climate Solutions. In the past, we've focused on Climate Change, but now environmental organizations, including Clearwater, are dedicated to educating what each and every one of us can do to help restore the Earth to a more balanced state. Please take some time to visit the Environmental Action/Green Cities, Discovery and Tideline tents to learn about solutions-based actions that you and your family and your business can take now. There was a banjo player who liked to say, "Think globally, act locally." Please consider talking with your family and friends about what you learned this weekend and help us all to pass it down and to keep the Clearwater community strong and ever-growing.

I'd like to give thanks and offer my gratitude to many people who are part of this organization and Festival. First, I'd like to thank the Clearwater Board of Directors for allowing me to direct this Festival since 2010. I'd also like to thank Linda Richards, our Volunteer Coordinator and our 800 volunteers – without them, Revival would not be possible. Thanks to John Economos who heads our volunteer photography team and is one of the nicest people you'll ever meet. Thanks to our Site Manager, Nancy Jane Blake and to our wonderful Site Crew, who started building the Festival on June 4 and will finish packing it up on June 21. Thanks to our Festival caterer and good friend, Gregar Brous, whose team prepares thousands of meals for our crew and artists. Thanks to Jason Mastrine, our ticketing partner for many years, for his help and support. Thanks to the Clearwater staff including Ann Mellor, Erin Macchiaroli, Michelle Acosta and volunteers Jill Greenbaum, Steve Weinstock, Roberta Goldberg, plus other members on the Revival Planning Committee, who have been incredibly helpful and supportive these past years. Special thanks to our Production Manager and a friend for life, John Doerschuk, as well as our two sound companies, Klondike Sound and Boulevard Pro. Heartfelt thanks to our Associate Directors, Cortney Schwam and Rick Brodsky, you have been absolutely amazing, and it's been an honor to work with you. And a big hug and very special thanks to Amy Larson Bonder, Clearwater's Acting E.D., and my teammate since 2010 – I wouldn't have been able to accomplish any of this without your help and support.

And finally, I'd like to thank all of you, our tremendous audience, for coming to support Clearwater by attending Revival, whether it's your first year or your fortieth.

Thank you for helping us to keep Pete and Toshi Seeger's legacy alive!

I hope you and your family and friends have a wonderful time!

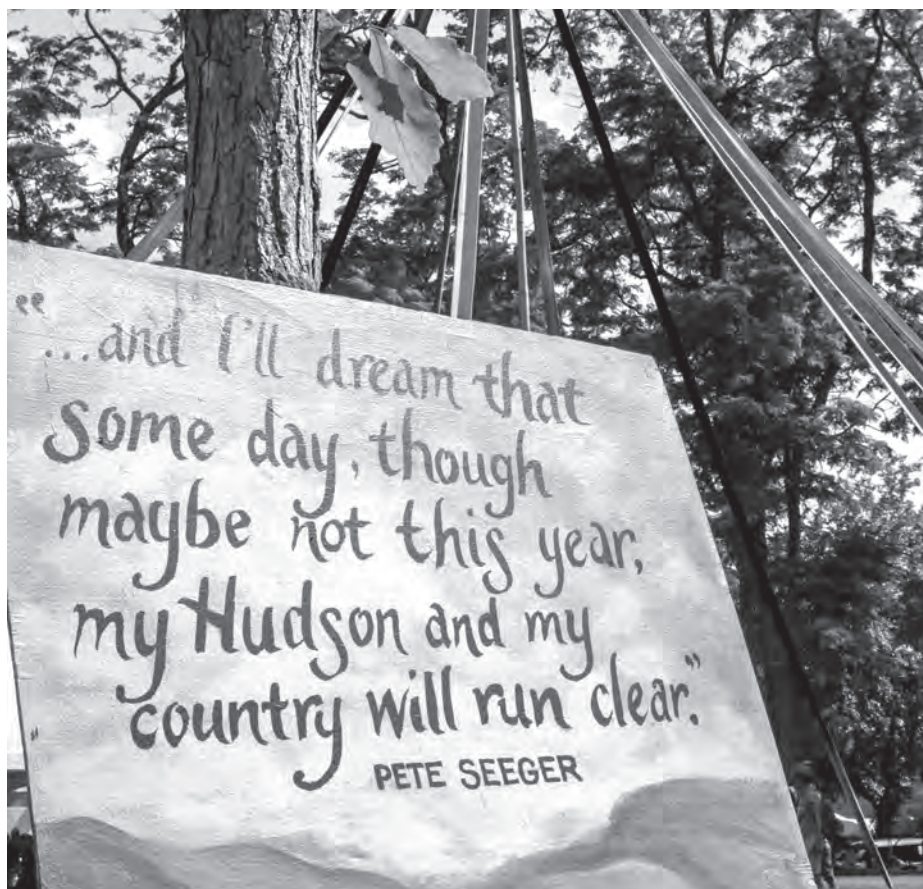

Happy Father's Day Weekend!

All my best,
Steve Lurie

Festival History

ABOUT CLEARWATER

Founded by Pete Seeger and inspired by his desire to clean up the Hudson River almost fifty years ago, the Great Hudson River Revival (Clearwater Festival) is the country's oldest music and environmental festival. Initially the Festival helped raise the funds to build the sloop Clearwater, which has since become a world-renowned floating classroom and the symbol of effective grassroots action. Today, Hudson River Sloop Clearwater is a non-profit 501c3 organization that sails at the forefront of the nation's environmental challenges.

Economist.com

The Clearwater Festival is truly a team effort, with the dedicated Clearwater staff, a devoted Revival Planning Committee, and over 800 volunteers all pitching in to bring this weekend to life. The Festival features eight stages with diverse music, dance, storytelling and family-oriented programming, as well as a juried Handcrafters' Village, the Green Living Expo, the Working Waterfront with boat exhibits and rides on small boats and tall ships, the Artisanal Food & Farm Market, environmental education displays and exhibits, and the Circle of Song, where audience participation is the focus. The Festival is wheelchair accessible and stage programming is staffed with American Sign Language interpreters. Reflecting its environmental roots, the Festival aims towards zero waste – please help by composting and recycling at the Zero Waste stations throughout.

Past artists include: Pete Seeger, Bonnie Raitt, Jackson Browne, Joan Baez, David Crosby, Citizen Cope, Lucinda Williams, Emmylou Harris, Natalie

Merchant, Neko Case, Guster, Drive-By Truckers, Indigo Girls, Martin Sexton, Steve Earle, Ani DiFranco, Bela Fleck, Lake Street Dive, Arlo Guthrie, Los Lobos, Angelique Kidjo, Richie Havens, Old Crow Medicine Show, Grace Potter, Susan Tedeschi, Taj Mahal, Billy Bragg, Hot Tuna, Josh Ritter, Punch Brothers, The Mavericks, Dawes, The Lone Bellow, Blind Boys of Alabama, Dizzy Gillespie and thousands more.

All proceeds support Clearwater's environmental research, education and advocacy efforts to help preserve and protect the Hudson River, its tributaries and communities in the river valley – as well as keeping the sloop Clearwater afloat.

The Festival has helped over 250,000 children experience the wonders of the Hudson River from aboard the sloop Clearwater. The organization itself has gained worldwide recognition for its leadership in helping to pass landmark environmental laws, both state and federal, including the Clean Water Act. Clearwater played a key role in the Environmental Protection Agency's decision to remove PCBs from the Hudson River. In 2002, Pete Seeger was named a "Clean Water Hero" for his prominent efforts in the passage of the Clean Water Act. His tireless devotion to working through Clearwater and promoting its message to effectively use the law in prosecuting polluters of America's waterways has made the Clean Water Act perhaps the most successful environmental law in the country.

Today, seeing the success of the Clearwater organization, one cannot imagine these achievements being possible without the Clearwater Festival. The Great Hudson River Revival has helped raise funds and awareness in support of America's First River. And it all started nearly fifty years ago, when it was but the dream of a banjo-picking folksinger.

HUDSON RIVER ADVOCATES SINCE 1969!

SLOOP CLEARWATER

Celebrating America's Environmental Flagship

Economsmith.com

In 1966 Pete Seeger announced a plan to “build a boat to save the river” with the belief that a majestic replica of one of the sloops that sailed the Hudson in the 18th and 19th centuries would bring people to the river, where they could experience its beauty and its desperate plight, and be moved to preserve it. At the time, the Hudson River was so polluted that several miles of it were declared “dead” due to the raw sewage and industrial effluent regularly discharged into it.

Pete and his friends played dockside concerts up and down the river with the banjo case open for donations to raise funds to build the sloop. As awareness of Seeger’s vision grew, so did the crowds. In 1969, the 106-foot sloop Clearwater was launched at Gamage Shipyard in South Bristol, Maine. Since her launch, more than half a million people have been introduced to the Hudson River estuary’s ecosystem aboard the sloop.

Today, the sloop Clearwater is iconic to the Hudson River and its people as a symbol of environmental awareness, sailing from New York City to Albany, April through October, and welcoming 12,000 people onboard each year. The “Sailing Classroom” is the centerpiece of Hudson River Sloop Clearwater’s education programs. Students onboard learn about ecology, fish and plankton, chemistry, math, physics, Hudson Valley history, and environmental stewardship. Many have never been on a boat before and have an opportunity to help sail the sloop, work together to raise the 3,000-lb mainsail, take the tiller and steer the boat, and join the crew in sing-a-longs and chanteys.

Hudson River Sloop Clearwater created the blueprint for many other sail education groups as the first onboard environmental classroom accessible to children of all ages, races, and backgrounds. Today there are several boats and organizations around the world conducting programs that are based on Clearwater’s hands-on method of teaching.

The organization Hudson River Sloop Clearwater, Inc. continues to grow and evolve from its grassroots beginnings to serve Hudson Valley communities with a variety of innovative educational programs, environmental advocacy, and musical celebrations, like the Clearwater Festival.

In 2004, the sloop Clearwater was named to the New York State Register of Historic Places in recognition of its, “exceptional significance in the history of environmental activism.” It all started with a desire to clean up a troubled Hudson River and a vision for an iconic ship. Through song and determination, Hudson River Sloop Clearwater has made a remarkable impact on the environmental movement.

Visit Clearwater.org to book a sail and explore the Hudson River from onboard the Clearwater, and to donate so that future generations can experience this majestic river as well.

Letter from the BOARD PRESIDENT

If we do our job right... we will have a boat of such unique charm that it will captivate the hearts of thousands up and down this river.

– Pete Seeger, in a letter to naval architect Cy Hamlin, written in May 1966.

Cathy Lawler

Welcome to the 40th anniversary weekend of Clearwater's Great Hudson River Revival. That's right, the 40th anniversary! And whether this is your first experience, or you have been coming year after year, we thank you for being here.

That first weekend-long festival in 1978 featured such legendary performers as Arlo Guthrie, Elizabeth Cotten, Steve Goodman, Leon Redbone and, of course, Pete Seeger. This year's lineup is just as exciting.

The mighty sloop Clearwater is embarking on its 50th sailing season on the river this year. And over the last 50 years the sloop has indeed captivated the hearts of thousands. But Clearwater, the organization, is more than just a pretty boat.

The sloop carries about 12,000 passengers every year. The majority are school-aged children. We teach them about the river's ecosystem, its history, its challenges – like climate science, a subject that is taboo in classrooms across the country – and about all of the things we can accomplish when we work together. Those kids – the next generation of environmental leaders – leave the boat recognizing that they are stewards of the Hudson River and the planet. They have to ask themselves, "If I don't do my part, then who will?"

Clearwater, the organization, also takes on environmental threats. We have been outspoken against the Indian Point nuclear power plant since its inception and are working on a "safe and just transition" for the plant and its workers during the decommissioning. We have opposed new Hudson River anchorages for commercial ships and barges, many of which would be carrying highly volatile Bakken crude oil. We are suing the New York State Public Service Commission over charging all NYS ratepayers $7.6 billion in subsidies that will go to unprofitable nuclear power plants in the western portion of the state.

We also celebrate the Hudson River – and each other – with music, food and dance. We come together, to not only escape the troubles of our times, but also to raise our voices and offer up solutions to those troubles.

So please, have a good time. Take a listen to a budding artist you have never heard before. Try some food you don't get to eat every day. Visit the Handcrafters' Village, the Activists Area, and the Clearwater Education and Environmental Tents. Become a Clearwater member. Join in. Join us!

–Betsy Garthwaite, President,
Clearwater Board of Directors

EDUCATION

Year-of-the-Young

Greg Lawler

This year marks an unprecedented shift in the consciousness of our young people. Leadership in the environmental movement, human rights, gender equality, education, and political action is coming from our youth like never before. Clearwater raises a flag and rings a bell in support of young leaders everywhere.

Thousands of people have gotten their start in environmentalism, education, politics, activism, or the maritime industry by sailing aboard the sloop or singing a song with Pete Seeger. After all, it was a group of very young, inspired, and activated people who raised the money to lay the keel in 1968, sailed the fine sloop Clearwater on her maiden voyage in 1969, and started an environmental revolution right here on the Hudson River that rippled across waters around the globe.

For 50 years, the Clearwater has always been a place where young people join together, haul on the halyards, and gather in song with crew, volunteers, and students aboard the historic sloop. Today, many of our sailing crew and volunteers often come straight from high school or college and are thrust into real-world challenges of teaching young minds, performing hard physical labor in all weather, carefully navigating intentional community living, and having necessary conversations about gender identity, institutional racism, and environmental justice around meals.

Whether it's on the banks of the river, aboard the historic vessels, or in the classroom, Clearwater encourages individuals to form their own bond with the Hudson River through personal experience. When young people boldly demand the freedom to learn, explore, and grow as they are today, we will be sure to see positive shifts in society and the environment. Clearwater will continue to put learning in the hands of each student as they get to touch fish, haul on lines, set seine nets, clap or sing along with river songs, and create works of art inspired by the Hudson. Now we look to these young people to show us, show your teachers, show your elected officials, and show each other what you want the world to become.

Clearwater's educational philosophy shines through all of our programs and everyone is invited to experience it for themselves by visiting the Tideline and Discovery Education tents here at the Festival. Come see the live fish, hands-on activities, interactive river displays, and enthusiastic educators (young and old) available for you to explore with all day. Clearwater offers learning activities for all ages and all abilities.

We cheer on young people as you show your teachers, parents, and other adults in your lives what kind of educational opportunities you want. Do you want to sail aboard the majestic sloop Clearwater for a Sailing Classroom Program? Do you want to spend your school day at the banks of the Hudson River for our Tideline Education Programs? For adults and children alike, sailboats and flowing waters have always held the special allure of freedom and escape from our daily routines. In order to appreciate the delicate beauty of our river, escape with us today on a voyage of discovery and see how we can all help to protect the Hudson River. Whether you sail aboard the decks of the historic ship or join us for an exciting riverside educational program, you and your classmates will have an unforgettable experience that will sustain you on your path for change.

Pete Seeger had great faith in humanity to come together, and especially trust in young people, to muster up the strength and ingenuity needed to protect the Hudson River and save the world. Our nation is bearing witness to a revolution lead by a generation who has new ideas, high standards, an urgency for reform, and momentum that will guarantee a better tomorrow. We continue to hear the echoes of his words in the chants and songs pouring forth from the lips of children and young adults stepping up to demand a better future for themselves.

The path to becoming an active participant in our democracy can be entered at any point, and Clearwater has shined a light on existing opportunities for engagement all along the way. Whether it's crafting a personal message about protecting the Hudson River to our elected officials at the Education Tent, signing a petition in the Activist Area, applying to volunteer aboard the sloop, singing along with the anthem "We Shall Overcome," or introducing a brand new idea, Clearwater has continued to invite people from all walks of life to join the environmental movement.

We gather at the Hudson River, casting nets into the turbid waters and hauling in schools of energetic young-of-the-year fish on their first migrator path up the estuary. But this spring, we are awestruck by promise for change led by students across the nation during this astonishing Year-of-the-Young. We applaud this extraordinary effort paralleled by young fish and young leaders as you show us what can be achieved when you struggle against the current and triumphantly overcome.

ENVIRONMENTAL ACTION

CLEARWATER'S ENVIRONMENTAL ACTION PROGRAM

Protecting the Hudson River Ecosystem and the well-being of everyone living in its Watershed!

The Hudson River continues to face challenges and opportunities, which Clearwater's Environmental Action initiatives have creatively faced by educating decision makers and community members, and promoting consensus-based solutions where possible and filing legal actions where necessary.

Proposed Hudson River Anchorages Stopped – As Coast Guard Creates a Hudson River Safety Committee.

Facing strong opposition from a broad coalition of Hudson River organizations and municipalities against the proposed ten additional anchorages between Yonkers and Kingston, housing up to 43 vessels filled with highly-explosive crude oil, last year the US Coast Guard suspended all proceedings on this application. The NY State Legislature then passed a bill, signed into law in October 2017, to empower the NYS Department of Environmental Conservation to establish Tanker Avoidance Zones, a valuable safety net against this ill-conceived proposal, which would have turned the Hudson into an industrial highway and parking lot. To further assess this issue, the Coast Guard convened a Ports and Waterways Safety Assessment (PAWSA) workshop last November. On March 13, the Coast Guard issued its PAWSA Report, creating a Hudson River Safety Committee (HRSC) using an ongoing collaborative process to recommend practices ensuring safety on our iconic waterway, including at the three existing Hudson River anchorages.

Anticipating Indian Point's Closure, Clearwater is Promoting the Safest Possible Decommissioning, a Just Transition for Plant Workers, and a Rapid Transition to a Renewable Energy Economy.

Indian Point's aging reactors, units 2 and 3, are scheduled to close in 2020 and 2021, respectively. Given its track record of a steam boiler rupture, siren failures, transformer explosions, ongoing leaks of radioactive material, degraded baffle-former bolts and leaky O-rings in both reactors, and numerous other unplanned outages, Indian Point's closure is an important step to reducing a major threat to the Hudson River. However, with more than 1,500 tons of high-level waste stored on-site in severely overcrowded fuel pools or in vulnerable dry cask storage, much still needs to be done.

- Safe Decommissioning and Just Transition: Clearwater is actively working with the Natural Resources Defense Council (NRDC), Riverkeeper and others to educate municipal officials about the ongoing dangers at Indian Point and the need for safe, fully-funded decommissioning. Just as important is developing a just transition plan to ensure that workers with technical knowledge and on-site experience are retained and that those who will be phased out after the plant closes are trained and placed in jobs in related industries, including the rapidly emerging renewable energy economy.
- We are planning a Congressional briefing and national lobby day on nuclear waste issues and actively working with LoHud to provide educational forums on the safest known technologies for on-site storage and the dangers of transporting highly radioactive waste to yet-to-be-determined, off-site interim storage or long-term repository. We are also facilitating a national Nuclear Waste Decommissioning working group to share information and learn from experts who can advise the 99 reactors communities which will soon face closure.
- We are also working with local elected officials and others to establish a Citizens' Oversight Board to ensure effective input to create the safest possible, fully funded decommissioning plan.

The Algonquin Pipeline Independent Risk Assessment is Urgently Needed to Ensure Safe Decommissioning of Indian Point.

The large, high-pressure Algonquin Pipeline crosses under and near Indian Point, which is located near the intersection of two earthquake faults – the Ramapo and Stamford-Peekskill faults – as noted by Lamont Doherty Earth Observatory. Clearwater is working with Stop the Algonquin Pipeline Expansion (SAPE), SEEnRG, IPSEC and United for Clean Energy (U4CE), a unique coalition opposing new fossil fuel infrastructure and aging nuclear power plants, to urge Governor Cuomo to release a long-overdue Independent Risk Assessment of the Algonquin Pipeline. This assessment is essential for evaluating the plant's site for reuse and its decommissioning plan. Local, county, state and federal elected officials have joined the call for the $250,000 Risk Assessment, which has been withheld from public view. Please urge your municipality to pass a resolution asking the governor to provide this critical taxpayer-funded report.

Clearwater's Legal Challenge to NYS Public Service Commission's Tier 3 Nuclear Subsidy.

In January 2018, two weeks after the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) rejected a US Department of Energy proposal for federal subsidies to prop up dirty coal and aging nuclear plants, the NY State Supreme Court rejected motions to dismiss Clearwater's Article 78 lawsuit challenging the 12-year mandatory subsidies for aging plants in Western NY, which are no longer economically viable without this $7.6 billion bailout. This landmark case is now headed to hearing and we need your support to ensure victory. The proceeding, filed last year by Clearwater, NIRS, IPSEC and others against the NYS Public Service Commission and nuclear plant owners Exelon and Entergy, charges that the PSC failed to follow the law by giving $40 million a month in ratepayer dollars to James A. Fitzpatrick, R.E. Ginna, and Nine Mile Point Unit 1 and Unit 2 reactors, under New York's so-called Clean Energy Standard. Unless stopped, these plants will continue to generate tons more of highly-radioactive nuclear waste, for which there is no disposal solution.

Please support Clearwater's lawsuit challenging New York State's mandatory 12-year, $7.6 billion surcharge on all electric ratepayers to provide a subsidy for aging nuclear power plants. Our petition has survived motions to dismiss, and this landmark case is now headed to hearing, but we need your support to ensure victory in this classic David vs. Goliath challenge. Please contribute to our legal fund by going to Clearwater's donate page and selecting the "Article 78 Challenge to NY Nuclear Subsidy" option – or by mailing a check to 724 Wolcott Ave., Beacon, NY 12508. Whether you donate $5 or $500 – every little bit helps.

Watershed Protection: Preventing and Remediating Contaminated Drinking Water.

Despite progress made by Clearwater, Riverkeeper, Scenic Hudson, the Hudson River Watershed Alliance and many local groups networking to protect the river and its tributaries, we still find serious contamination to drinking water supplies – as in Newburgh's Lake Washington Reservoir and at Hoosic Falls from industrial sources.

Newburgh Water Supply Contaminated with PFOS.

Clearwater is actively working with the Newburgh Clean Water Project to ensure the best possible cleanup of the perfluorooctanesulfonic acid (PFOS) from runoff from Stewart Air Base. Here are a few key points:

1. The Department of Defense must stop the flow of PFOS and other contaminants from Stewart Air National Guard Base as soon as possible, and the flow of pollutants absolutely must cease before Newburgh resumes drawing its drinking water from Washington Lake.
2. The Department of Environmental Conservation must test the water and sediment in Washington Lake for a wide variety of contaminants to ensure that the new carbon filtration system delivers clean, safe water from a waterbody that has suffered decades of pollution from many sources.
3. The Orange County Department of Health should continue to offer free blood testing to community members exposed to contaminated drinking water in Newburgh. Longitudinal studies are needed to better understand long-term health effects of PFOS.

Hudson River PCBs: Only a Partial Victory.

General Electric used polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs) as insulating oil in capacitors and transformers manufactured at plants in Hudson Falls and Fort Edward in the Upper Hudson from 1947 to 1977, when they were banned. PCBs have been designated as a probable human carcinogen and can cause neurological disorders, hormonal disturbances, reproductive disruption, birth defects, and many other health problems.

In 2002, the EPA issued a Record of Decision requiring GE to remove an estimated 2.65 million cubic yards of sediment containing 150,000 pounds of PCBs from 40 miles of highly contaminated hotspots in the upper Hudson, north of Albany. Dredging began in Fort Edward in May 2009, when three times more PCB-contaminated sediment than expected was discovered. For five years, GE did an exemplary job of remediating the river. However, more than 100 acres of PCB-contaminated sediment immediately outside of the area designated for dredging remains, delaying recovery. The NYS Canal Corporation still needs to undertake navigational dredging to restore the channel for full use by larger shipping vessels. Clearwater and our sister organizations, as well as US Fish & Wildlife, NOAA, several State agencies, and many municipal officials have called for a more robust cleanup that will allow the Hudson to recover more rapidly. We believe that the remediation that EPA has required of GE is NOT adequately protective of human health and the environment. In January 2018, EPA delayed issuing a Certificate of Completion for this phase of the dredging and agreed to help DEC analyze their extensive data – both steps in the right direction – indicating that public pressure and comment are having some impact.

Keep it in the Ground: We Don't Need More Fossil Fuel Infrastructure.

There is still much to be done regarding the various fossil fuel pipelines, bomb trains, pump stations and power plants that present a challenge to health, safety and the environment. Constant vigilance and ongoing action are needed to place restrictions on the dramatically increased transport by river and rail of Bakken crude and tar sands oil in the past few years.

Climate Change Solutions.

Given the multiple catastrophic hurricanes, forest fires and other manifestations of a global climate crisis we have witnessed in the past few months, it is clear that we must not only act to mitigate climate change, but find and implement a portfolio of solutions to reverse this trajectory and restore balance to the Earth. This must be our legacy to future generations. Paul Hawken's drawdown.org has brought together hundreds of scientists to assess the 100 most promising climate solutions in the areas of energy, transportation, buildings, cities, agriculture, forestry and more to reduce greenhouse gasses and sequester carbon safely and naturally. The sooner we start to implement these, the more successful we can be.

CLIMATE SOLUTIONS

INSPIRE ACTION AT 2018 CLEARWATER FESTIVAL

Given the series of climate-related disasters we witnessed last fall and winter, Climate Solutions is a timely theme for 2018 Revival. It's a good news story that showcases a range of actions that will not only mitigate the global climate crisis, but can actually restore the Earth to balance – with a focus on things people can do in their homes, workplaces and communities to make a real difference. The world urgently needs a major paradigm shift, and we are much more likely to work for SOLUTIONS than for mere mitigation, which implies a future that is less bad, rather than truly bright.

Climate solutions not only include the more obvious changes to a renewable energy economy, clean transportation and livable cities, they are also found in the ecosystem services provided by healthy soils, sustainable agriculture and forestry, wetlands, marshes, and even kelp forests and coral reefs in the ocean, which sequester carbon.

Environmental Action The EA/Green Cities tent features a Climate Solutions display, sector by sector, detailing what can be done to generate clean renewable energy with storage and energy efficiency, reduce food waste, manage refrigerants, install green roofs and microgrids, and stresses the importance of educating women and girls.

Ulster County's 1.9 megawatt solar array sits on a closed landfill and generates 20% of the electricity used by county government facilities.

Education At the Working Waterfront near the Tideline Tent, there is a demonstration of sea level rise predictions, or try your hand at Climate Solutions Bingo at the Education tents.

Clearwater's Zero Waste Program has been recognized as a model of waste reduction and a major climate solution, as are our sustainably powered stages.

Vendors at Green Living Expo, the Marketplace and the Artisanal Food & Farm Market, will tell you how their products and services offer solutions that help address climate change. Look for signs that invite you to "Ask me about CLIMATE SOLUTIONS" and check out the Activist Area for more ideas and inspiration.

When it comes to global warming, sustainability pioneer Paul Hawken says, we've been "focusing too much on the problem instead of the solution... Regenerative development actually heals the future as opposed to stealing from it, which is what we're doing today." A great source for local and global climate solutions is Project Drawdown, which brought together a diverse team of scientists to evaluate and rank the 100 most valuable climate solutions. Their book, Drawdown: The Most Comprehensive Plan Ever Proposed to Reverse Global Warming, lists 80 solutions that are currently in practice and can scale up, ranked by the number of gigatons of CO₂, or the equivalent, that can potentially be avoided or removed between 2020 and 2050.

"I can't think of a greater moral imperative than to take care of the only home we have...the Earth. There is only one boundary on Earth really, and that is the atmosphere. What we do here in the U.S. impacts climate, which, in turn, impacts people all around the world. When you see and know that our destinies are inseparably stitched together, what else is there to do but honor life in its extraordinary manifestations? Being life means creating the conditions for life."

And, finally, Hawken says, "Don't be put off by people who know what is not possible. Do what needs to be done, and check to see if it was impossible only after you are done."

Working together, we can implement real, measurable and effective Climate Solutions NOW!

VOLUNTEER!

Econosmith.com

Sienna Wildfield

Cathy Lawler

Greg Lawler

All of Clearwater's programs rely on the gracious gifts of people. People like you, who come to our festival, people who work in our office, people who work on our boats, people who work on our land-based programs, and all the people who volunteer their time and energy in a myriad of ways. Clearwater's volunteers teach thousands of school kids on the sloop Clearwater and the schooner Mystic Whaler every year. Clearwater's volunteers work to develop relationships with communities and empower them to make environmentally aware decisions.

Clearwater's volunteers also come together every year to put on this Festival! This weekend you will see over 800 volunteers working side-by-side on committees like Peacekeeping, Zero Waste, Education and Green Living Expo. Every booth you visit, every waste-sorter who helps you, every bit of information about the bizarre and wonderful hogchoker is brought to you by Clearwater's volunteer community.

Clearwater presents additional opportunities to become involved throughout the entire year. Here are just some of them:

- Office Volunteers
- Tabling and Outreach
- Fundraising
- Winter Boat Maintenance
- Hosting a House Party
- Onboard Volunteer Educators for the sloop Clearwater and the schooner Mystic Whaler
- Clearwater Sloop Clubs (see page 58 for details)

Clearwater's mission is to preserve and protect the Hudson River and its communities, and to inspire, educate, and activate the next generation of environmental leaders. We are a grassroots organization built by individuals donating their time, energy, and skills. Volunteers are the lifeblood of this effort.

To give yourself – without a catch – without a fee – without the thought of “What do I get?” – this is the glory of volunteerism. And, THIS is what we, as humans, get to flaunt...to relish...to expand.

As William James put it, “Act as if what you do makes a difference. It does.”

As Dr. Seuss put it, “Unless someone like you cares a whole awful lot, nothing is going to get better. It's not.”

If you have not yet joined our volunteer team, please come join us and volunteer this year with Clearwater!

ACCESS

WELCOME TO OUR ACCESSIBLE FESTIVAL!

Pete Seeger was an advocate and activist for the equality of all people and stood up against the oppression of all kinds, especially underrepresented communities which included deaf people and people with disabilities. Early in the evolution of Revival, members of these diverse communities worked together to create a festival that was accessible to everyone. Toshi Seeger used to say that folk music is music of the people...all people. So Toshi and Pete created Clearwater's Great Hudson River Revival, one of the first and still one of the most accessible, culturally rich and diverse outdoor festivals in the country, where music, stories, and activism can be shared and celebrated by all.

We believe that it's important to continue to educate others by creating a welcoming, respectful environment. One of the many ways we demonstrate this is by avoiding the use of words and phrases such as "handicapped", "differently abled", and "special needs", which are offensive to many people with disabilities. Parking, seating areas and port-a-johns are accessible, not handicapped. For the deaf community, terms like "hearing-impaired", "deaf-mute", "deaf and dumb" are also offensive and antiquated. The deaf community are members of a community and a culture and do not identify as having a disability. Words are powerful, and by choosing this kind of positive language, we hope to affect change in a much broader way.

Accessibility is provided by establishing Access Areas at the front of all the stages, large print, Braille, and audio descriptions of programs and maps, wheelchairs to borrow free of charge, golf cart rides around the Festival site, Access volunteers to assist people with disabilities, as well as many other amenities. American Sign Language (ASL) Interpreters are on the main stages and at the Interpreter Booth.

While enjoying wonderful performers at each of our stages, you will notice the ASL Interpreters on one side of the stage interpreting the spirit and message of the songs, stories, and music. The ASL Interpreters are nationally certified and have specialized expertise in theatrical and performance interpreting.

There are large open areas in front of the stages that may seem unused during some performances. By providing this space at the front of the stages, deaf people and people with disabilities and their families have easy access without having to navigate around and through the patchwork of blankets and chairs in the audience area. Because people may arrive to the performance at any time, we keep these areas reserved at all times.

The ASL Interpreters' booth is located next to Information, and the Access Hospitality Tent is right next door. Come on by, ask questions and learn. Please feel free to talk to the interpreters about their work at the Revival at the booth. The interpreters are also open to talking as they wander the festival, but beware – they may be on their way to interpret, so you may have to catch them later back at the interpreter booth. They come to Revival to provide access to the Deaf community, raise awareness and educate the Hearing community, and to bridge both worlds and cultures.

ACTIVIST AREA

Sienna Wildfield

Year after year, we invite people to visit our Activist Area to see what others are doing to improve our world. And each year we come across new organizations that join us and make us realize the wide range of issues that people are working on. We sometimes wonder how many who visit our activist groups are changed by what they experience. Three years ago, a patron visited our area and spoke with people at Moms Demand Action for Gun Sense. She is now an active member of that organization. She spoke to us and told us how she started to get slowly involved, moving at her own pace and comfort level. She still feels that she is at a "low level" but that everyone's work is part of the solution and she is very happy to be part of something she believes in. She feels that she is contributing in a way that fits into her life. We continue to be committed to offering our groups the opportunity to share with patrons the important work that they do and inspire them to become active participants. As Anne Frank once said, "How wonderful it is that nobody need wait a single moment before starting to improve the world." Quietness and inaction equals complicity. We hope you are or will become an active participant.

ZERO WASTE

Greg Lawler

The Clearwater Festival serves thousands of people, including audience, volunteers, staff and artists. From the very beginning over 40 years ago, our festival has taken responsibility for the waste that we generate. We ask that you help us work toward zero waste by Refusing what you don't need, Reusing when possible, and Recycling at our sorting stations located around the site. To make it easier, food vendors will be offering products on compostable serviceware. If you have questions, please ask the vendor or one of our helpful Zero Waste volunteers!

Each sorting station includes three bins:

COMPOST

- All food scraps (of plant and animal origin)
- Paper plates, waxed paper, paper napkins, wooden skewers, and chopsticks
- Compostable plastics (#7 PLA utensils, cups, and straws)

We send our materials to a professional composting facility so we can accept many things not compostable at home.

RECYCLING

- Plastics (#1-6, excluding styrofoam, plastic bags, plastic film, and compostables)
- Glass
- Metal
- Cartons (excluding paper cups, yogurt pouches)

Audience recyclables are sent to Westchester County's facility so we go by the "Rules of Their House" as described in the above bullets. This can vary in different locations. Unmarked plastics and plastic bags still go in the trash.

TRASH

We ask that you only dispose of true trash. Please double check where the product came from on the festival grounds. If it's from the food court or any food vendor it is compostable. The trash bin is the last resort.

ZERO WASTE PROGRESS

Over the past 9 festivals, we have been moving towards zero waste. This means that every year we have increased the percentage of festival-generated materials recovered through composting and recycling, thus reducing the amount of materials added to the waste stream and hauled for burning at the county incinerator in Peekskill, NY. Festival generated compostables are sent to Ulster County Resource Recovery Agency in Kingston, NY.

In 2017, Clearwater Festival retrieved the weights of material collected during the festival and established percentages for each of the following categories:

- Compost (organics) – 5.5 tons (46%)
- Recycling – 4.13 tons (34%)
- Trash – 2.4 tons (20%)

When combined, the Compost and Recycling total collectively weighed 9.63 tons of diverted material, or 80%
of our waste stream!

This would not be possible without your help. We rely on everyone at the Festival to chip in by taking an extra moment every time you throw something away. Together we can make this work.

Remember to Reduce the amount you use. Use Reusable items, and when buying, buy items made from Recycled materials. Bring your travel mug or water bottle with you to stay hydrated. A spork or reusable silverware is small and can easily tucked away in a pocket when not in use. Be creative, and help support our zero waste efforts.

The great work done by all at the Festival – the attendees, vendors and the Zero

Waste team – has gained recognition on many levels. The Festival's ongoing Zero Waste initiative has garnered the following awards:

- Folk Alliance International 2017's original The Clearwater Award
- 2017 New York State Department of Environmental Conservation's Environmental Excellence Award
- Westchester County 2013 Earth Day Award

Questions?

Our festival Zero Waste committee has trained volunteers to help you decide where your materials can be deposited. Please ask them to help you sort compostables and recyclables. They are present at each sorting station in the food court and at various locations around the Festival grounds.

The Clearwater Festival's efforts toward zero waste are supported by the following entities:

- EcoSafe
- Suburban Carting
- Ulster County Resource Recovery Agency
- Westchester County Parks Department

Langhorne Slim

The songs on Langhorne Slim's newest album, Lost At Last Vol. 1 challenge the idea of social rigidity; the attitude that there's a "correct" way for us to live and a side we should be on. He urges the world to see through the idea that by following that path and focusing only on fitting the mold, one will have lived a good life.

Marva Parker Clark was born in Horsehead, VA, to John and Edith Parker. Her mother prayed for her to be a musician and bought a piano before she was born. Now Marva helps others realize their own musicality through song.

The Levins

A harmony-driven acoustic duo. Sun-splashed, peace-filled, contemporary folk that connects on a universal level and celebrates our common humanity. Award-winning singer-songwriters featuring unique harmonies, tightly blended unison vocals and choice guitar/piano arrangements.

The Nields XVII, the Nields' seventeenth album, is both their most personal and their most community-minded. Well into their third decade as a musical partners and at the very top of their game, the Nields turn to meditations on time, and turning points, their roots and community, but they also express joy in the present, faith in the future, and a whole lot of hope and promise.

The Mavericks Founded over 25 years ago as a standout alternative band in a Miami rock scene dominated by hair metal and punk, The Mavericks' blend of Cuban grooves and Bakersfield-inspired twang netted them several CMA and ACM Awards plus a Grammy in 1995. They charted numerous singles and albums while earning accolades as one of the finest live bands in the business.

Parker Millsap Parker Millsap is quickly making a name for himself with his captivating live performances, soulful sound, and character-driven narratives. Rick Nestler Comments on Grammy winner Rick Nestler: "The 'Terror of the River'...a whiskey tenor...one of the best shantymen...Raffish Rick Nestler," – Pete Seeger. "Rick has a songbag that would have made Alan Lomax green with envy!" – Ron Olesko WFUD-FM.

Nate Marshall "Nate the Great" has been performing for the past 12 years. His shows are interactive, great for kids and adults, and include the juggling of (at least!) 5 clubs, 6 rings, 7 balls, and 1-2 children, as well as comedy routines.

FESTIVAL PERFORMERS

River Whyless With three superlative singers and songwriters in O'Keefe, Anderson and Shearin, River Whyless consciously worked to blur the designation of a lead singer on We All The Light, deftly blending the three voices throughout the record.

Terrance Simien & The Zydeco Experience For 35 years, two-time Grammy award winning artist Terrance Simien, an 8th generation Louisiana Creole, has been shattering the myths about what his indigenous Zydeco roots music is and is not. Leading his Zydeco Experience band, Simien has become one of the most respected and accomplished artists in American roots music today.

The Rix Rick Nestler & Rik Palieri. Both performed with Pete Seeger. Grammy winner Rick Nestler, wrote "The River That Flows Both Ways," the Clearwater anthem. Rik Palieri is a multi-instrumentalist who plays guitar, banjo, Native American flute, mouth bow & ukulele.

They Might Be Giants 2018 just got a whole lot better! Brooklyn's Ambassadors of Love, They Might Be Giants are back with a brilliant new studio album, I Like Fun; they're back with their Dial-A-Song service at www.dialasong.com; and they're back on the road with a new show with an expanded lineup of musicians.

Roger The Jester Roger the Jester has been fooling around for over 40 years. His trail of laughter and smiles wanders through 25 countries. His improvisational style mixes object manipulation, magic and buffoonery to ensure that his audience is entertained.

Tom Chapin Tom has maintained two long and productive parallel careers, both as a highly respected contemporary folk artist, and as pioneer in the field of children's music. In the former he's established a reputation for insightful, heartfelt song craft and charismatic live performances.

Rona Leventhal Rona Leventhal calls storytelling "Living Literacy" (c), which develops what she calls "The Imagination Muscle" (c). Her first CD, Into the Dark: Stories From the Shadows (Creepy Stories for Adults and Fearless Teens), is now available.

Tom Paxton & The DonJuans Collectively, their songs have been covered by: Harry Belafonte, John Mellencamp, Miranda Lambert, Neil Diamond, Ray Charles, Nancy Griffith, Judy Collins, Pete Seeger, Janis Ian, Kathy Mattea, John Denver, Peter, Paul & Mary and Bob Dylan, just to name a few! Within days of writing and playing together, they knew they were onto something.

Sarah Underhill Long before crewing the sloop Clearwater as a teenager, Sarah had been singing traditional music. Her new album, Bound Out For Canaan features the group Stockport Middle Ground. Joined by Ben Bath, Creek Iversen, Aldo Lavaggi and Rik Palieri, it celebrates the music of Appalachia.

Tony Duncan Tony Duncan has shamelessly flaunted a few God-given talents since 1978 (using all original material): Most Original Act (Variety Artist World Cup 1995, Japan), World Champion (47th Annual IJA), and Outstanding Variety Entertainer (Backstage Magazine).

Sloan Wainwright Singer/songwriter Sloan Wainwright commands of a variety of American musical styles held together by the melodious tone of her rich contralto. Her family tree (Loudon Wainwright, Rufus Wainwright, Martha Wainwright and Lucy Wainwright Roche) reads like a who's who of contemporary folk music.

The Trouble Sisters The Beacon-centered trio of Karen Brooks, Laurie Siegel and Melissa Ortuist, met though the Clearwater and singing with Pete. They are known far and wide for their spellbinding harmonies.

FESTIVAL PERFORMERS

Upstate Rubdown Drawing from every corner and decade of America's musical landscape, Upstate Rubdown has been described as a "hurricane of sound". The unique instrumentation includes mandolin, cajon, upright bass, and alto/baritone saxophone, all fronted by a powerhouse of 3-part female vocal harmony.

Willie Nile The New York Times called Willie Nile "one of the most gifted singer-songwriters to emerge from the New York scene in years." In 2017 Willie Nile released his 11th studio album, Positively Bob – Willie Nile Sings Bob Dylan, to rave reviews.

Vanaver Caravan The Vanaver Caravan is a world touring company of dancers and musicians that presents a variety of entertaining and informative programs, synthesizing various ethnic and regional styles, from Appalachian clogging to flamenco with a range of modern theatrical techniques.

Work o' the Weavers Work o' the Weavers is David Bernz, Mark Murphy, Martha Sandefer, and Travis Jeffrey. Since 2003, they have been recreating the music and telling the history of America's pioneering folk quartet, The Weavers (Pete Seeger, Lee Hays, Ronnie Gilbert, Fred Hellerman).

Walkabout Clearwater Chorus Created by Pete Seeger to bring the environmental message to the sloop Clearwater inland. Walkabout appears on Pete Seeger's Grammy-winning CD, Pete Seeger '89, on PBS-aided Peter Yarrow's Sing-along Special and has its own CD, They Had A Song.

Yael Deckelbaum & Prayer of The Mothers Ensemble Yael Deckelbaum is an award-winning Israeli/Canadian singer-songwriter and activist. She is a founding member of the legendary trio Habanot Nechama, who had a #1 hit in Israel with their single "So Far". Yael wrote and composed the song "Prayer of The Mothers," which turned into the anthem of the March of Hope, led by the movement "Women Wage Peace".

The War And Treaty The War and Treaty: the name itself represents the pull between trauma and tranquility, music inspired by darkness and despair that ultimately finds a higher spiritual purpose. It's a sound manifested on the group's upcoming EP, Down to the River.

Zeshan B Born in Chicago to Indian Muslim immigrants, Zeshan Bagewadi's musical identity was formed at the junction of two different worlds which collide on his debut album Vetted, a mixtape of originals and lesser known 1960s and '70s deep soul gems. An acclaimed performance of the National Anthem at the 2015 Carter Foundation led to the ultimate honor for Zeshan—an invitation from President Obama to perform at the White House for its inaugural celebration of Eid.

SLOOP CLUBS

Sloop Clubs support knowledge and love of the river through concerts, festival, lectures, publications, potluck dinners, picnics and sailing programs. As affiliates of Hudson River Sloop Clearwater, Inc., they are dedicated to carrying out the organization's purposes in their own locations through education, advocacy and celebration. Each club has its own character and emphasis – raising public awareness of the river as a natural and recreational resource; promoting sound ecological practices; educating about watershed ecology, responsible, and irresponsible uses of natural resources; and methods of remediation for existing problems.

The Sloop Club Congress comprises local sloop clubs to discuss the means to support Clearwater's mission. We meet during the Clearwater Festival on Sunday morning at the Sloop Club tent and at Clearwater's Annual Meeting in the fall.

BROOKLYN SLOOP CLUB

The Brooklyn Sloop Club offers rowing and sailing instruction with Whitehalls. The club has held conferences on the Asian Long-Horn Beetle and on green jobs, and also presents awards at the New York City Science and Engineering Fair.

FERRY SLOOPS

Ferry Sloop members are dedicated to introducing people to the Hudson River to sail its water, learn its lore, and enjoy the beauty of its shores. Through this exposure, it is hoped that people will become advocates for the river and help preserve our natural heritage.
