PRESENTING PARTNER

North America's rivers are in desperate need of stewardship. Tom's of Maine's National Rivers Awareness Program is a partnership with The Nature Conservancy, River Network, and The National Park Service Rivers & Trails Program combining education with grass-roots action to benefit our nation's waterways.

CO-SPONSOR

Westchester County Department of Parks, Recreation & Conservation manages park lands which span more than 16,000 acres offering some of the most beautiful scenery in the county. Fifty parks and recreational areas to hike, swim, bicycle, fish, picnic or just spend quiet time. Westchester County Parks: "We've Got It All."

A RIVER FOR ALL OF US

When the tall ship Clearwater was launched in 1969, the concept of public access was all but unknown in the Hudson Valley. Long taken for granted, the shores of the Hudson River had been cut off from local residents by highways, railroads, factories, erosion, pollution and neglect.

Fast-forward 34 years to Croton Point Park. Tens of thousands of local residents and out-of-town guests convene each summer on the grassy, tree-lined shores of the Hudson River. They picnic, they fly kites, they hike the nature trails, and often they just lie back, letting the beauty of the place minister to their work-weary souls.

If not for the work of Clearwater, tirelessly promoting an ethos of public access to the Hudson River, many communities would not have public parks on their waterfronts.

But Westchester County was ahead of that curve. Croton Point has been a county park since 1924, the crown jewel in an extensive network of parks nurtured by a county government that is uncompromising in its support of public open space.

That's why Westchester County and Clearwater are such a good fit, coming together once each summer to create the Great Hudson River Revival – the festival that saved a river – on the shores of the river that defined America. It's a partnership dating back to 1978!

Enjoy this wonderful event and beautiful place as our cherished guests. And think about what you can do to help preserve and protect the wonderful resources you see all around you this weekend.

WELCOME TO THE CLEARWATER MUSIC AND ENVIRONMENTAL FESTIVAL THE GREAT HUDSON RIVER REVIVAL FOR 2003

A message from the Festival Director, Ron Aja

Hello everyone. Welcome to Clearwater's thirty-seventh river festival. For over three decades the festival has created a community in support of Clearwater's environmental work on the Hudson River. And welcome to this beautiful river peninsula with its lush grassy meadows, graceful tree-lined shores, and sweeping views of the majestic Hudson River. Revival 2003 will present many of its traditional and popular activities: environmental exhibits, a children's active play area and family stage, juried crafts, a social and political activist area, a display of boats, sustainable renewable energy and solar power displays. Revival continues to present quality music and dance, with new emerging bands and song writers, legendary artists, popular performers and renowned storytellers.

It's been another tremendously rewarding year working with all the folks who make this festival happen. More than 900 volunteers dedicate themselves to creating and hosting this big event each June.

We have many new and interesting exhibits, displays and activities this year. Don't miss the new Working Waterfront with a dynamic display of small boats and large vessels. And the Hudson River Discovery tents with tanks of fish, river displays and boat models.

Thanks for joining our celebration!

Celebrate the Clearwater Festival 2003 with Tom's of Maine!

Take Our Rivers
Pledge!

Help us Build our River Mosaic!

At Tom's we've been committed to the environment since we started making natural care products in 1970. That's why we created Common Good Partnerships like the Tom's of Maine National Rivers Awareness Program, to help inform people and spur action around rivers. To be a part of this, just fill out a Tom's of Maine Rivers Pledge Form, which we will use to build our River Mosaic. So join us...we look forward to meeting you!

Come Meet Tom and Kate!

Stop by the Tom's of Maine Rivers Awareness Tent to find out how you can make a difference, play rivers games, enter a rivers prize drawing, learn how a watershed works, meet founders Tom and Kate Chappell, and much more!

Membership Information

Join us for a Change of Pace.

Need a break from the sun? Come sit down, rest your festival-weary feet, have a cold drink and a snack with us at the Clearwater Membership Oasis. Sign up for a Clearwater membership at the Festival and choose a special gift – Pete Seeger's Storytelling Book, Alan Chartok's interview with Pete on CD or a Clearwater CD from festivals past – free when you join, while supplies last.

Join us and Change Lives.

Membership supports nearly 30% of the costs for Clearwater's award-winning education program.

A sail on the Clearwater can be a life-changing experience for the more than 15,000 young people who come aboard each year. Many are from urban neighborhoods and experience the river at eye level for the first time with us – gaining a perspective on their world that they might not receive from any other source!

Since the Clearwater's launch in 1969, more than 400,000 youth have sailed with us. We call them the Clearwater Generation! Our long-view strategy is widely recognized for helping to create a regional population that values sound environmental decision-making. The children we are educating today are the Hudson Valley's best hope for a healthy environment tomorrow.

More than 200 members train in our Volunteer Crew Program each year, then spend a week on the Clearwater assisting in our education programs. And many more members are serving as volunteer educators right here at the Festival!

Join us and Change the World.

Old-fashioned grassroots advocacy is needed today more than ever, and your Clearwater membership can be as active as you want to make it! Clearwater is the Hudson Valley's action clearinghouse for information, skills, advocacy training, contacts and coordination. Members provide the network that makes grassroots action possible. You are the voice of the community, so join the Clearwater chorus for clean water, clean air, smart energy and sustainable development.

Sloop Clubs

JOIN THE CLEARWATER EXPERIENCE WITH YOUR LOCAL SLOOP CLUB

Members of the Hudson River Sloop Clearwater, Inc. live throughout the Hudson River Valley and beyond. Inspired by Pete Seeger, because the big sloop Clearwater could not be everywhere often enough, a number of sloop clubs have sprung up among the Clearwater membership. So, in addition to your membership in the Hudson River Sloop Clearwater, Inc., you can join with friendly, like-minded people in a sloop club! See the list on this page of contacts for the clubs, and visit the Sloop Club area at the festival, on the main path across from the Children's Area.

Each of these clubs has its own flavor, its own mission, and its own relationship to the mother organization, Clearwater. Most, such as North River Friends of Clearwater, the Beacon Sloop Club, or Riverlovers, Inc., tend to serve particular regions. The Walkabout Clearwater Chorus ranges wide, bringing their songs and a beautiful scale model of the Clearwater to places where the big sloop cannot go. And the Turtle Island Sloop Club (TISC) exists only in cyberspace - a forum for the free sharing of ideas, information, opinions, etc.

Most sloop clubs contribute money to Clearwater, which they raise by holding various kinds of events, including concerts and riverside festivals. In addition, sloop clubs provide a handy pool of dedicated volunteers for Clearwater to call upon, to do anything from making baggywrinkles (bundles of frayed twine that help protect the sail) during the sloop's winter maintenance period to organizing candlelight vigils during the PCB Campaign.

During Hudson River Sloop Clearwater, Inc. board meetings, a representative of each sloop club may cast an advisory vote in matters before the board. A few times each year the sloop clubs get together and hold a meeting called a Sloop Club Congress. Everyone is welcome to participate. We invite Clearwater staff and Board members, and affiliates like Ferry Sloops and Rocking the Boat. We share food and talk about ways to work more effectively together.

Some clubs have environmental education programs, and some have sailing education programs. Most have newsletters. And each has its own special activities, such as Ulster Co. Friends of Clearwater's four-day August Camporee Jamboree on an island in the Hudson, Beacon Sloop Club's Shad, Corn, Recycling and Strawberry festivals, and Monmouth County Friends of Clearwater's MCFC Clearwater Festival in August.

If you would like to become a member of a Sloop Club, please contact them directly. For more information visit the Clearwater web site: <http://www.clearwater.org/clubs.html>

Clearwater Environmental Action

THE NEW YORK ENERGY CHALLENGE

SAVING 2,000 MEGAWATTS FOR A SAFER NEW YORK

Global warming, greenhouse gasses, smog, the danger of nuclear power plants, and the need for energy independence ... all good reasons to switch from our dependence on fossil fuels and unsafe nuclear power to practicing energy efficiency and using clean, renewable sources of energy -- such as solar, wind and geothermal -- to meet our energy needs.

Clearwater and its partners invite you to join the NY Energy Challenge by pledging to reduce your energy consumption and /or by substituting renewables to reduce or replace 2,000 megawatts of electricity – equivalent to the capacity of Indian Point 2 and 3.

The campaign will have two components: a paper pledge and a website. The website will calculate the energy savings accrued through our personal and collective actions. Each individual, business, institution or municipality making a pledge will be able to return to the site at any time to update their information, get an individual report of their account, and see the progress of all New Yorkers.

Visit www.nyenergychallenge.org to sign up or fill out a paper pledge form.

Think of the megawatts reduced or replaced as “nega-watts.” Pledges will range from simple things like replacing incandescent light bulbs with compact fluorescents, turning off lights, appliances and other equipment when not in use, or adjusting the thermostat on air conditioners – to more advanced actions such as purchasing energy efficient appliances or installing photovoltaic (PV) panels.

Participants also have the option of becoming Energy Stewards. These folks will agree to enter more extensive data, including reporting the kilowatt hours and price per kWh from their bimonthly electric bills, compared with their previous year's bill, to document their reductions.

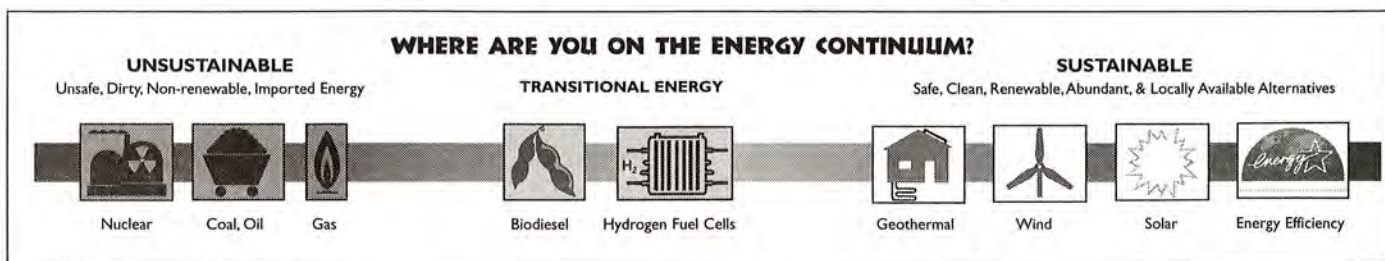

The site will be supplemented with Energy Saving Tips, links, a tool to navigate NYSERDA incentives, information on lighting, appliances, “phantom load,” and a page on non-megawatt energy savings related to heating and cooking fuel consumption and transportation.

This project comes from an idea that singer/songwriter Dar Williams suggested to “make Indian Point pointless.” For this ambitious effort to succeed we will need thousands of pledges obtained by a collaboration of as many partners as possible. Dar encourages New Yorkers to “set a precedent for other regions across the country by showing that we can voluntarily reduce our energy needs, shift to sustainable energy production, and determine our own future!”

Interested in learning more about the NY Energy Challenge, closing Indian Point, the clean-up plan for Hudson River PCBs, the newly forming Hudson River Watershed Coalition, St. Lawrence Cement, or other important Environmental Action issues?

Stop by Clearwater's Environmental Action tent or call 845-454-7673 ext. 113 or 116.

Sloop Clearwater

A FIELD GUIDE TO THE HUDSON RIVER SLOOP

As you're enjoying the festival, you'll probably see the majestic Hudson River sloop Clearwater sailing by. Hudson River sloops were once a major cargo carrier from Albany to New York City, transporting travelers, livestock, manufactured goods and farm produce. Since its launch in 1969, half a million people have sailed on the sloop that has become America's environmental flagship. To find out how to go sailing during Revival weekend and in the future, please visit the Membership Oasis or www.clearwater.org.

The Clearwater Crew

People from diverse geographies and backgrounds compose the Clearwater crew! Seasoned veterans mentor new apprentices and interns about sailing and teaching. Volunteering for a week aboard Clearwater can be a great way to explore the Hudson, and a life changing experience!

The sloop Clearwater will long be a reminder of what people can accomplish when they work towards a common goal—like raising a two-ton mainsail, or saving a river.

SAILS

The Clearwater's mainsail measures over 2,900 square feet. Mainsail, topsail and jib help Clearwater harness the wind—a great renewable energy source.

BAGGYWRINKLES

That's really what they're called! These knotted strands of old line protect the mainsail from chafing on cables that support the boom.

BOOM

The dramatic "Hudson River Jibe" sends the boom, the lower support of the sail, flying across the deck. Our brand new boom was previously a single Douglas fir from Oregon.

CENTERBOARD

In order to reach shallow ports, the Clearwater's draught, or depth in the water, is only about seven feet. When the fin-like centerboard is lowered, it creates a deeper draught (13 feet) for greater stability.

MAST

A special trait of these sloops is a single tall mast. The tip of the Clearwater's topmast towers one hundred and eight feet high.

TILLER

Most Hudson River sloops were controlled by a long tiller directly attached to the rudder for quicker maneuverability.

DECK AND PLANKS

The deck is made of yellow pine; strong white oak for planks and timbers. Clearwater is in the middle of a several-year effort to replace the entire deck.

There's also lots of shade.

The Children's Area is created and staffed by the parents, alumni and teachers of the Randolph School in Wappingers Falls, NY, a school dedicated to creativity, holistic learning, self-reliance, and respect for nature, ourselves and each other.

While the Children's Area is fully staffed during festival hours, it is not designed for child care; children under eight must bring along a grown-up.

Wings over Water

Come join Artist and Educator Lisa C. Abbatomarco in creating puppetry spectacles that join together creatures from the waters of the Hudson River with the land and the air. Your snake and dragonfly puppets, created from recycled and found materials, can slide and glide around the Festival!

Lisa C. Abbatomarco has been puppeting for a gazillion years. She's performed with the ol' Arm of the Sea Theater and Heart of the Beast Theater (MN).

WORKING WATERFRONT

Get in a boat on the Grand Old River! Visit some big ones too!

There is nothing—absolutely nothing—half so much worth doing as simply messing about in boats. —Kenneth Grahame, The Wind In The Willows

Working Waterfront has a beautiful spot in Croton Point Park with ready access to the river and room for exhibits. Individuals and groups will give each other and the public a chance to row, sail, paddle – whatever – each other's vessels after proper instruction under safe conditions. Members of the general public are invited to experience the pleasure of boating on the Hudson River. They will learn why Clearwater has been so active at preservation and restoration of the Hudson. Several larger working (and retired) boats are expected on the bay, open for visitors. Music is also part of the fun. Gather near the boat launch for our informal Chantey Sing as folks get their voices together.

GROUPS WITH BIG AND SMALL BOATS EXPECTED ON THE WORKING WATERFRONT

Mose Allison

Not merely one of America's great jazz pianists, Mose Allison can also boast that his songs have been covered by Van Morrison, John Mayall, The Who, The Clash, Eric Clapton, the Yardbirds, Elvis Costello and Bonnie Raitt. A native of Tippoo, Mississippi, Mose now lives on Long Island with his wife Audre, with whom he has raised four children: an attorney, a computer systems analyst, a psychiatrist and a singer/songwriter, Amy Allison of The Maudlins.

Arm-of-the-Sea Theatre

With a name that evokes the Hudson River's secret identity as an estuary, Arm-of-the-Sea Theatre embodies the beauty, richness and intrigue of the estuarian ecosystem that inspires this troupe. Founders Marlena Marallo and Patrick Wadden and the rest of Arm-of-the-Sea have since 1982 been using lusciously painted puppet figures and hauntingly beautiful mask characters to create what they call "a theatre of visual poetry, made by hand and put to music." Their production at this year's Revival, "At the Turning of the Tide," covers everything from steamboat commerce to landscape painting, activism and what they call "the eat-and-be-eaten dance of the food chain."

Marcia Ball

For the past 30 years, singer/pianist/songwriter Marcia Ball has been raising roofs, tearing down walls and stirring souls with her mixture of Texas blues and New Orleans boogie-woogie. According to the Boston Globe, "Marcia Ball is a firecracker, combining killer piano with throaty-to-tender vocals." Her ninth Album, "Presumed Innocent," won the W.C. Handy Blues Award for Blues Album of the Year and her tenth, "So Many Rivers," includes six Marcia Ball originals.

Story Laurie and I.J. McIntosh

This dynamic duo combine traditional tunes, fantastic fables, magical myths, silly songs, playful poetry and whatever else their wacky imaginations can create! Together they are an electrifying duo who'll keep your toes tappin' and your smiles smilin'!

Len Cabral

"Storytelling is not just for children," proclaims Len Cabral, who uses poetry, song, movement and humor to bring out the child in all of us. Great grandson of a Cape Verdean whaler, Len Cabral offers an exuberant interpretation of Cape Verdean, African and Caribbean folktales as well as original stories. He has been enchanting audiences with his performances at schools, libraries, museums, detention centers and festivals throughout the United States since 1978.

Synia Carroll-McQuillan

Storyteller, singer, educator, and Connecticut's official State Trobadour for 1998, Synia Carroll-McQuillan has performed extensively throughout New England with her presentation "First World Tales," a blend of stories, music and dance from Africa, the Caribbean and the Americas. She has recorded for McMillan/Hill, American Melody and Scholastic and has been featured in Diane Smith's book, Positively Connecticut. After extensive work as a Master Teaching Artist, Synia currently teaches middle school Spanish.

Tom Chapin

Two-time Grammy winner Tom Chapin is one of the Hudson Valley's great musical treasures. Whether singing for adults or kids, Tom entertains, amuses and enlightens audiences with life-affirming folk songs told in a sophisticated array of musical styles. His tenth family recording, "Making Good Noise," is being released this month.

Performers

Steve Charney

Steve Charney and his sidekick, Harry, have been using magic, music and ventriloquism to entertain families for years. Steve produces, writes and hosts his own radio program, "Knock on Wood," which can be heard on WNYE in New York City and WKZE in Sharon, Connecticut. In addition to Revival, Steve and Harry have performed at two Borscht Belt hotels, an RV park near Lake George, the National Theatre in West Ghana, Africa and several libraries in Indianapolis! Children's author Daniel Pinkwater calls Steve "a scholar of various types of lunacy."

Victoria Christgau

Victoria Christgau is a singer, peace educator, Master Teaching Artist with the Connecticut Commission on the Arts and spokesperson for the World Peace Prayer Society. Founder of the Sound Body Workshop and Production Company, she produces an annual Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. birthday celebration and directs the Peace Is Possible Chorus, now in its twelfth year. Victoria teaches and performs at the Omega Institute, the World Peace Sanctuary, Wisdom House and other locations. She has been one of the musicians performing for Clearwater's Pumpkin Sail.

JJ Waffles T. Clown

JJ Waffles T. Clown was born on Coney Island in Brooklyn to Greek immigrant parents. A graduate of the CCNY School of Architecture, JJ began his clowning career after being drafted for military duty in 1967. JJ has performed for schools, libraries, museums and community events throughout Massachusetts and in 1984 he was honored by the House of Representatives for "uplifting the spirit of the citizenry." He is currently on tour with his one-person show, "Waffles T. Clown Recites the Poetry of Shel Silverstein."

Lui Collins

Since her first album "Made in New England" was released on Philo Records in 1978, Vermont native Lui Collins has been a powerful presence on the folk music scene in New England, New York and beyond. Although Lui Collins started out singing covers of Joni Mitchell and Joan Baez songs, she quickly established herself as a compelling songwriter in her own right. Her newest and seventh solo album, "Leaving Fort Knox," reflects Lui's current interest in southern Appalachian music.

Murali Coryell

Vocalist, guitarist, songwriter, producer, record label owner and 1992 honors graduate of SUNY New Paltz Murali Coryell toured with Richie Havens and Duke Robillard before releasing his debut album, "Eyes Wide Open," in 1995 - featuring music influenced by the R&B sounds of the 60s and 70s. Murali has opened for B. B. King, Wilson Pickett, Gregg Allman and George Thoroughgood and his recent record, "2120," earned a three-star review from Rolling Stone. You may also have heard of Murali's dad, the jazz guitar legend Larry Coryell.

Marshall Crenshaw

Doing the soundtrack for last year's PBS documentary about Yogi Berra inspired Marshall Crenshaw to create the music on his latest record, "#447," whose title rightly conveys the sense that this veteran rocker has been on the scene, creating and performing memorable tunes, for a good long while. In fact, it was 1982 that saw Crenshaw burst onto the national airwaves with his eponymous debut release. After nearly a decade in Woodstock, Crenshaw moved to Brooklyn last year -- and lately he has found himself exploring a growing interest in jazz.

Performers

Da Vinci's Notebook

This is not your typical bunch of gifted vocalists from the Washington, D.C. area who decided to spurn instruments and burst into unaccompanied song. The latest release from Da Vinci's Notebook, "Brontosaurus," includes the world's most depressing sing-along, a musical disquisition on internet pornography and a hit tune with a two-word title, the first of which is "enormous" and the second of which rhymes with "Venus." You are hereby warned that a DaVinci's Notebook performance may include audience participation, on-the-spot requests, improvised lyrics, conga lines and/or imitations of Britney Spears.

disappear fear

This is the renaissance for disappear fear. Sisters Sonia and Cindy grew up in Baltimore and have sung together their whole life (so far). Before signing with Rounder/Philo, disappear fear had three indie releases, toured with the Indigo Girls and then signed with Warner-Chappell Publishing and won the GLAAD award for Best Album. 2003 means new frontiers for disappear fear and a brand new CD to be released (hopefully) in September.

Dog on Fleas

Dog on Fleas is a real band for real kids. Their CD, "fairly good songs for fairly good kids," is getting lots of airplay across the country. Band members include Dean Jones on trombone, Raissa St. Pierre on drums, David Levine on fiddle, Matt Verilli on guitar and John Hughes on bass. Everyone sings and acts silly. Kids can sing and stomp along to original tunes with positive messages and sincere charm.

The Earth Tones

The Earth Tones are SUNY Albany's premier all-male a cappella group, founded in 1998. Their repertoire includes all musical styles, from barbershop to rock. The Earth Tones perform at coffee shops, student group meetings, their popular semiannual concerts and, every year, on tour across New York state. For the past three years the group has performed at the International Championship of Collegiate a Cappella.

Bruce Engholm

Bruce Engholm coordinates the official World Juggling Census site on Saturday in the Free-Time Juggling Area. Voted annually count over 200 jugglers on World Juggling Day Revival! This is Bruce's ninth year providing instruction at Revival. He founded the Mid-Hudson Juggling Club in 1992, which meets at Anderson School in Staatsburg and, in the summer, at the Vanderbilt Mansion in Hyde Park.

Entrain

Since its founding in 1983, the Martha's Vineyard-based Entrain has jammed with such musical immortals as James Taylor, Bob Weir, Bo Diddley and saxophonist Bill Clinton. Entrain has made five records all of which have been praised for their ability to shift from rock, blues, calypso and ska to zydeco, jazz and funk – often within the same song. Entrain has contributed music to the soundtrack of the action-thriller movie "Cutaway," and even to a commercial that aired during the Super Bowl. "We just wanna make peace and love cool again," says founder and drummer Tom Major.

Jackson Gillman

From the mysterious and rock-bound coast of Maine comes storyteller, mime and songsmith Jackson Gillman, where the local public radio station has dubbed him "a zany kind of comic mutant." Over a 25-year career Jackson Gillman has performed at the National Storytelling Festival three times and frequently lays siege to school assemblies with things like BUGS! (a "love life revue"), Rudyard Kipling's Just-So stories and tall tales from the Maine woods. Whether performing for adults or children, Jackson Gillman delights his audiences with his inventions while touching them with his personal warmth.

WALKABOUT CLEARWATER COFFEEHOUSE!

Walkabout Clearwater is a land-locked sloop club known for its people's chorus as well as its seven-foot-tall model of the Hudson River Sloop Clearwater. The model goes where the real ship can't, and every year, from October through May, it docks at The Harvey School in Katonah, New York, for Walkabout Clearwater's monthly coffeehouse concert series.

The Coffeehouse's "circle of song" includes top performers, pre-concert singalongs, and refreshments. (Not to mention collectible mugs!) Plus, there's literature and displays from environmental organizations, activist groups, and other folk music and folk arts venues. Just like the Revival, it's a chance to see old friends, meet new ones, and listen to great music — and, best of all, it lasts all year long!

Send in the form below to add your name to our twice-yearly mailing list. Note: We're updating our list, so even if you've been on it in the past, please send us your address again. The fall brochure will be out at the end of the summer. Remember, our profits go to support the work of the Hudson River Sloop Clearwater.

Andy Glockenspiel

Andy Glockenspiel reports that he is not trying to be a kid – he is one. “I really do want each and every child to be the best them they can be,” he says. “After all, today’s children are tomorrow’s everything.” This children’s singer, songwriter and actor has recently issued his debut record, called “It’s Your Day.” With Andy, playing and learning are synonymous!

Ed Gottlieb

Ed Gottlieb has been teaching juggling for more than 20 years, and coordinating Clearwater’s Free Time Juggling Area since it began over a decade ago. According to Ed, the vast majority of folks who thought they could never juggle but give it a try are amazed at how quickly they learn. Apart from the fun, Ed reports that juggling can be a very “meditative, centering activity” – which is an ongoing help to Ed in his massage therapy practice in Ithaca, New York.

Joel Harris

“Airborne Joel” is a high-energy comedy act that began 20 years ago as a snowball juggling contest in a laundromat, and has since escalated to the manipulation of flaming lawn chairs, bird baths and seven-foot unicycles. He has entertained in theaters, comedy clubs, colleges, festivals and fairs throughout the US and abroad. Joel resides in Amherst, Massachusetts when he is not on his brave quest for laughs.

Kim and Reggie Harris

Schoharie County’s legendary Kim and Reggie Harris blend their talents as composers, singers, storytellers, educators, folk performers, interpreters of history and cultural advocates with a possibly irrational belief that their beloved hometown team the Philadelphia Phillies will win the World Series this year. Married since 1976, Kim and Reggie Harris recently released their fourth album on Appleseed Records, entitled “Simplicity.”

It features their own tunes as well as traditional spirituals and music by Sting, Phil Ochs, Pete Seeger and even classical composer Jean Sibelius.

Alvin Youngblood Hart

According to Downbeat Magazine the self-taught Alvin Youngblood Hart “delivers all hues of blues with compelling conviction and more than a little fleet-fingered virtuosity.” But, since his 1996 debut album “Big Mama’s Door,” Hart has not confined himself to straight blues – and his latest record, “Start With The Soul” (a winner of the New York Times critics’ poll as one of the ten best albums of the year), embraces everything from 70s R&B to Seattle-style garage rock to the socially conscious original tunes that Hart refers to as “freedom rock.”

Pat Humphries & Sandy O.

Pat Humphries’ much-acclaimed musical anthems, “Keep on Moving Forward (Never Turning Back),” “Common Thread” and “Swimming the Other Side” are sung at peace and justice events around the world and have been translated into seven languages. An NPR story about “Swimming” caused such a stir that Pat’s record “Hands” was the #1 seller on Amazon.com for three days! Pat is now performing with her partner, Sandy Opatow, who adds exquisite vocals, guitar playing and songwriting. Their song “If I Give Your Name” was recently named a grand prize winner in the John Lennon Songwriting Contest.

Inner Visions

The island of St. John in the northeastern Caribbean is home to the reggae combo Inner Visions, which consists of guitarist Phillip “Grasshopper” Pickering, his brother and bassist Alvin “Jupiter” Pickering and percussionist Paul “Ras Paul” Samms. Their reggae is suffused with other influences and what the group calls “hardcore conscious, eye-opening lyricism.” Now 20 years old, Inner Visions has a motto that sustains the group in its success: Love one another now!

The Johnson Girls

An all-woman maritime group, the Johnson Girls have been bringing festival and coffeehouse audiences to their feet from San Francisco to Maine and in England and Portugal. Joy Bennett, Maggie Bye, Alison Kelley, Bonnie Milner and Deirdre Murtha came together in New York six years ago, sharing a love of traditional music and a desire to infiltrate the traditionally male world of seafaring. Said the Cornish Guardian in England of a Johnson Girls show: "Those who thought a shanty singer had to be male, bearded and with a beer gut needed to think again!"

Sharon Katz & The Peace Train

Says South African native Sharon Katz: "As a teenager, I used to sneak out to the African townships to play music with my friends there, and when Nelson Mandela was released from prison, I performed at all his rallies, singing about unity and a peaceful transition to democracy in South Africa." Now, Sharon Katz & The Peace Train have a Grammy nomination (Best World Music Album) and have been getting standing ovations from Carnegie Hall to the Philadelphia Folk Festival thanks to their unstoppable beat and amazing harmonies of South African music and dance.

KR3T's Dance Company

Based in Spanish Harlem, Keep Rising to the Top Dance Company is a non-profit dance organization that not only provides a safe support network for young people but also fosters the creative talent that comes from New York's inner city. Its founder and director is Violeta Galagarza, who developed her talents as a dancer and choreographer with the Boys Harbor School of the Arts, the School of the Performing Arts and the Alvin Ailey Dance Company. KR3T's features hip hop, salsa, merengue and traditional African dances in its performances.

Patty Larkin

Boston is a city of musicians – so you must be quite something if the mayor names a day after you. In this instance, Boston's Patty Larkin Appreciation Day, proclaimed by Mayor Thomas Menino, was just another milestone in a musical career that started with a sensitive singer-songwriter phase in the late 1980s and morphed into what Patty calls an "alterna-folk/pop" period in the 90s to the mature sonic innovations of today. Patty's latest album, "Regrooving the Dream," draws on Celtic, blues, R&B, Middle Eastern, Samba, country and folk roots.

Tracy Leavitt

Writer, storyteller and educator Tracy Leavitt has appeared at universities, libraries, festivals and conferences around the world. She is the founder of Visions Story and Art Center in Poughkeepsie, and her audio publications include "Whispers of Light: Stories of Transformation and Fine Silk Threads."

Tracy recently traveled to Indonesia, which inspired her to collect and research Asian, Indian and Pacific Rim stories.

Sean Madden

hope for the future.

Sean Madden has been entertaining audiences of all ages up and down the Hudson as an environmental educator and performer since moving to New York several years ago. His stories, songs and poems stem from his love of the natural world, his enthusiasm for life and his

Magpie

Terry Leonino and Greg Artzner, a.k.a. Magpie, are celebrating their 30th year together. They have performed throughout the U.S. and abroad, and have numerous recordings – including their 25th anniversary release "Give Light," and their most recent, "Sword of the Spirit," a collection of songs based on the story of abolitionist John Brown. Magpie has always been known for amazing versatility and the powerful blend of their two voices. Terry and Greg are famous for their commitment to various political causes, most notably the environment and the struggle to end racism.

Performers

The Mammals

Here's what WBUR in Boston says about The Mammals: "The future of traditional folk music in one high-octane trio. Boisterous and energetic, and swinging an arsenal of stringed instruments (banjo, guitar, fiddle, ukelele), Tao Rodriguez-Seeger, Ruth Ungar and Michael Merenda put as much old-time radio oomph into the classics as they do into their own compositions." The Mammals are thrilled to return to Clearwater's Revival this summer after a year of national touring.

Alan McClintock

Alan McClintock has performed environmentally inspired stories, folktales and personal stories gleaned from his relationship with the Capital Region of New York at the New York State Museum, schools, libraries and festivals throughout New York and western Massachusetts for more than 15 years. His performances explore and celebrate our relationship to "place" as well as the natural world.

Gandalf Murphy and The Slambovian Circus of Dreams

"Punk-classical-hillbilly-Floyd" is the way lead singer Joziah Longo describes Gandalf Murphy and The Slambovian Circus of Dreams – a band as likely to perform an old timey yodel tune in the manner of Hank Williams as it is to play something that harkens back to early King Crimson or the Beatles. The band's debut record, "A Good Thief Tips His Hat," was followed by "Live from the Towne Crier" and a single, "Suddenly It's Christmas," that received national airplay on public radio.

Bob Nickerson

Bob Nickerson, who hails from the Allegheny Mountains of western Pennsylvania, has been entertaining audiences for more than 20 years with his self-taught juggling and pun-infused comedy. Bob's juggling has been called eccentric – after all, why would a man juggle a bowling ball and two tennis balls over his face? Simply to show that his act has gone from the ridiculous to the supine?

NRBQ

Since forming in 1967, the band known to its followers simply as "the Q" has offered up a freewheeling blend of musical styles – from jazz to R&B to polka – earning the admiration of fellow musicians like Paul McCartney, R.E.M. and Bruce Springsteen. Bonnie Raitt has called NRBQ "the greatest rock 'n' roll band of all time." Co-founders Terry Adams (keyboards) and Joey Spampinato (bass) have been playing with 'newcomer' Tom Ardolino (drums) for nearly 30 years – with guitarist Johnny Spampinato only a ten-year veteran of the group his older brother helped start. Check out "NRBQ Live at Mountain Stage," the recently released compilation of the group's performances on the popular public radio program.

Tom Pacheco

Woodstock-based singer-songwriter Tom Pacheco has written than 2,500 original songs over a musical career spanning more than 25 years. His 12th and most recent solo album is "There Was a Time," in which Tom takes stock of what has lately vanished from our world – and what needs to be reclaimed. Tom Pacheco's songs have been covered by Jefferson Starship, Richie Havens and The Band, and he's written several number-one hits for Norwegian country music star Steinar Albrigtsen.

Faith Petric

Reports Faith Petric: "I was born in a log cabin at Orofino, Idaho, not far from the Clearwater River on September 13, 1915." She is proud to be able to say she knows a thousand songs – everything from tunes about the IWW and other unions to love songs, cowboy tunes and what she calls "songs-so-bad-they're-good." According to Utah Phillips: "If Eleanor Roosevelt were alive today and sang folk songs, she would be Faith Petric."

Felix Pitre

A native of Puerto Rico, Felix Pitre is an accomplished actor who has performed his bilingual program, "Stories and Songs of Latin America," throughout the U.S., including at the Kennedy Center and the Smithsonian in Washington. He returned to the Smithsonian with a commissioned piece, "Jibaros to Juan Bobo, Folk Tales of Puerto Rico." Felix has written two picture books and has conducted workshops for students and teachers on Latin American culture, storytelling and writing.

theater, circus arts and comedy, has entertained audiences throughout North America and Europe. Featuring audience participation, storytelling and comedy, this show is for all ages. Favorites with the Clearwater audience have been "air painting" and devil sticks. Says Paul: "We are all jugglers one way or another."

Steve Riley and The Mamou Playboys

It begins in 1755, with the deportation from Nova Scotia of French settlers – the Acadians

-- who eventually found their way to the bayous of Louisiana. There, influenced by Afro-Caribbean, German, Native American and even Scots-Irish cultures, they created the musical mixture we now know as the Cajun sound – and that inspired Steve Riley and the Mamou Playboys. Formed in 1988, the Mamou Playboys have just released their eighth album, "Happytown," featuring everything from recordings made on the banks of the Atchafalaya Swamp to digital samples of black juré singing from the 1930s.

Reeltime Travelers

Johnson City, Tennessee – the site of Ralph Stanley's first recording with the Stanley Brothers – is the place where singer-songwriter Martha Scanlan, mandolinist Thomas Sneed, fiddler and dancer Heidi Andrade, banjo player Roy Andrade and bassist Brandon Story came together to form the Reeltime Travelers, which has recently released its second CD, "Livin' Reeltime, Thinkin' Old Time." The Reeltime Travelers play Old-Time Reeltime music, rooted in the string bands of Southern Appalachia that pre-dated the advent of the recording industry.

Roger the Jester

More than a juggler, more than a magician, more than a musician, more than a clown, Roger Reed – also known as Roger the Jester – is celebrating his 25th year as a professional fool. During his career Roger has left a trail of smiles and laughter throughout 23 countries, and has performed with Mummenschanz on Broadway as well as European circuses before settling down to the bucolic existence of the Berkshires.

Linda Richards

She's in waders in the Hudson, she's in classrooms, she's at campfires, she's on stage . . . SHE'S EVERYWHERE! Linda Richards bubbles over with songs about the river and punctuation, baseball and love. With a singing voice that has been called "lyrical and captivating," Linda Richards uses her varied life experiences, her sense of humor and reality to entertain and enlighten her audience.

Paul Richmond & Friends

Paul Richmond has been a performer and educator for more than 30 years, and a part of the Clearwater scene since 1985. His highly informative show, using

J. Peter Scheuerholz

"Jovial Juggler" J. Peter Scheuerholz reports that he was born "long ago" in Middletown, New York and is a former teacher who draws, paints and sculpts. For the past eight years he has taught in Clearwater's "Classroom of the Waves" program aboard the schooners Voyager and Mystic Whaler. He's been painting signs for the Revival since 1988 and has also contributed illustrations to the event's program.

The Hudson Highlands marks the area where the River cuts through the Appalachian Mountain chain at sea level. The Appalachian Trail crosses the Hudson using the Bear Mountain Bridge.

Bar Scott

Since leaving Philadelphia in 1988 to pursue the life of a New York City musician, Bar Scott has been making quite a splash along the Hudson. She has released four recordings of original music, two collections of cover material and even a children's book. Her July 2002 concert with Phoebe Snow and Beth Nielsen-Chapman at the Beacon Theatre in New York became the "Voices of Inspiration" special aired nationwide on September 11, 2002 by Fox TV. Her latest album, "Sweets for the Soul," was named one of the top ten regional releases of 2002 by WKZE in Connecticut.

Pete Seeger

Pete Seeger has been strumming and getting others to sing with him for about 75 of his 84 years. His concerts helped raise money to build the Sloop Clearwater 37 years ago. In between singing this weekend Pete will be visiting the Sloop Club tent and the Alternative Energy area – and hanging out with the small boaters such as Floating the Apple, Rocking the Boat and the East River Apprenticeshop.

Dovie Thomason Sickles

A respected and award-winning storyteller, recording artist and author, Dovie Thomason Sickles has shared the stories of her Plains Apache and Lakota people for more than 20 years in an effort to give others a clearer understanding of the often invisible cultures of the First Nations of North America. A popular voice at the National Storytelling Festival, Dovie Thomason Sickles has also performed at the Smithsonian, Wolf Trap, the Kennedy Center and the Geraldine R. Dodge Foundation Poetry Festival.

Jill Sobule

Jill Sobule confides that she has "dated and broken up with some of the biggest record labels on earth," had her "K-Tel moment of glory" with her 1995 hit "I Kissed A Girl," and is "alive and well and making the best music of my career" – including her latest albums, "Pink Pearl" and "I Never Learned to Swim." Jill has performed with Warren Zevon, Carole King, Paul McCartney, James Brown and Brian Wilson; her songs have been featured in the films "Harriet the Spy," "The Truth About Cats and Dogs," "Clueless" and "Grace of My Heart." She has been a "singing news commentator" for NPR and once sold shoes to Cher and Barbara Streisand.

SONiA

Inspired by Phil Ochs and Vincent Van Gogh, SONiA is SONiA. Santa Cruz Guitars just named a guitar after her, and she has won numerous awards as both a solo artist and as part of the group disappear fear. Says Billboard magazine: "She performs more than 200 dates a year and yet she seems to play each gig with the passion and electric energy of an artist on opening night." When not performing, or boogieboarding on the Outer Banks of North Carolina or the beaches near Bli Bli in Queensland, SONiA creates commissioned paintings for friends around the world.

The Storycrafters

Barry Marshall and Jeri Burns have been working together as The Storycrafters for 11 years. They are also award-winning radio hosts, recording artists, writers, adjunct faculty members at Southern Connecticut State University and parents of a budding storyteller who accompanies them wherever they go. They strive to honor world cultures by telling old stories in respectful ways, often integrating the musical instruments, songs or dances indigenous to the region in question.

In 1783, Quaker brothers Seth and Thomas Jenkins left their Nantucket homes and brought their whaling ships up the Hudson River. From 1785 to 1845, the city of Hudson became a whaling community, homeport to the Hudson Whaling Company. Other whaling towns included Poughkeepsie and Newburgh.

The Hudson River is part of the National Estuarine Research Reserve System. NERRS is dedicated to long-term research and education. Four unique sites, ranging from freshwater to brackish water tidal wetlands, make up the Hudson River National Estuarine Research Reserve: Stockport Flats, Tivoli Bays, Iona Island and Piermont Marsh.

Andre Thierry & Zydeco Magic

Andre Thierry was raised in California – but in a household where Louisiana French music was omnipresent. Andre's grandparents hosted fundraising zydeco dances at their parish church, where Clifton Chenier recorded his only live performance at such an event. Andre started out as a child on the traditional, single-row "Cajun" accordion, and has since progressed to the triple-row and the upright piano accordion. According to author and zydeco expert Michael Tisserand, "Andre Thierry is a standard-bearer for the new generation. He is among the best of both the West Coast and the Gulf Coast, and he combines youthful vigor with a mature appreciation for his inherited tradition."

Happy & Artie Traum

Happy and Artie Traum have been performing and recording together since the 1970s. Happy is known for his company Homespun Tapes, which has released hundreds of music instruction videos. Artie's latest album is "South of Lafayette," which was released on his label Roaring Stream Records this year. Happy & Artie are planning to release a compilation of vintage concert performances this year, followed by a tour of Japan.

Tony Trischka Band

Tony Trischka is one of the world's most innovative banjo players; fellow banjoist Bela Fleck has compared Trischka to Miles Davis and John Coltrane in terms of what he has done to take his instrument to new places. The Tony Trischka Band includes saxophonist and flute player Michael Amendola, a regular in the New York jazz scene, guitarist and vocalist Rolf Sturm, whose work has ranged from klezmer to country, bassist Bob Bowen, a teacher of music theory, and percussionist Scott Neumann, who was the featured drummer with the original Broadway musical Swing.

Matt Turk

This Roots Rocker World Folk musician is based in the Hudson Valley and performs regularly. He has shared the stage with Fiona Apple, Jeff Buckley, Clues Traveler, Dave Matthews Band, Del McCoury, The Doobie Brothers, Eliis Marsalis, NRBQ, Keller

Williams and Pete Seeger, among others. He has just released his second album "What Gives" which was claimed as "the best of them!" by Todd Mack, producer and host of Off the Beat-n-Track Radio Hour (WKZE).

Ulali

Ulali features Pura Fe (Tuscarora), Soni (Mayan, Apache, Yaqui) and Jennifer (Tuscarora). Founded more than fifteen years ago, Ulali is the first Native women's group to create their own sound from their strong traditional roots and personal contemporary styles.

Ulali has shared the bill with Buffy Saint Marie, Floyd Westerman, Miriam Makeba, John Trudell, the American Indian Dance Theatre, Sting, Richie Havens, the B-52's, Jackson Browne, Bonnie Raitt, Mary Chapin Carpenter and the Neville Brothers.

Jay Ungar and Molly Mason with Swingology

Jay Ungar and Molly Mason with Swingology means dance music of the first order. Expect their usual mix of vintage jazz and blues, swing, romantic waltzes and some surprise originals – all with the focus on that solid rhythm that makes people get up and dance!

The talented Ruth Ungar joins her family on stage for this special edition of Swingology, which also includes the cornet of Peter Ecklund, multi-instrumentalist Peter Davis and the ubiquitous grooving rhythm section of Harry Aceto on bass and Michael Miranda on drums.

The Hudson River is part of the National Estuarine Research Reserve System.

NERRS is dedicated to long-term research and education. Four unique sites, ranging from freshwater to brackish water tidal wetlands, make up the Hudson River National Estuarine Research Reserve: Stockport Flats, Tivoli Bays, Iona Island and Piermont Marsh.

Performers

Tony Vacca and The World Rhythm Ensemble

World Rhythms is a consortium of musicians whose collective skills and insights have created a wide range of programs from concert performances at jazz and world music festivals to recordings, videos, workshops and concerts. Combining the power of West African balafons and drums with the urban bite of alto saxophone and electric bass, they mix tradition and innovation on a journey through the sources of jazz, ju-ju, samba, hip-hop and blues.

Vanaver Caravan

The Vanaver Caravan tours extensively and has captivated audiences with its celebrations of American and world dance and music. The Caravan is currently touring its production of "Pastures of Plenty: Tribute to Woody Guthrie in Dance and Music". The Company offers concerts, dance classes and extensive arts-in education programs. The Caravan Kids, ages 7- 15, often perform with the Company in a highly spirited performance of world song and dance. They are featured with Pete Seeger on recent his CD, "Take it From Dr. King."

Viento de Aqua

Peter Watrous of The New York Times calls Viento de Aqua "exuberant and raucous," and Latin Beat Magazine says this group makes "the ultimate Caribbean party music."

Three young Puerto Rican musicians living in New York—Hector "Tito" Matos, Ricardo Pons and Alberto Toro — formed Viento de Aqua in 1997. The group fuses traditional Afro-Puerto Rican rhythms of bomba and plena with other Afro-Caribbean rhythms and jazz.

Liz Weir

From County Antrim in Northern Ireland comes Liz Weir, who travels the world telling stories to adults and children. Founder of the Yarnspinners community storytelling groups, Liz Weir is the organizer of the annual Ulster Storytelling Festival. Here in the U.S., she was featured at the 1996 National Storytelling Festival. "BOOM CHICKA BOOM" is the name of her book and CD featuring her stories and rhymes.

We're About 9

Vance Gilbert says We're About 9 is "some kind of a cross between the Kingston Trio, the Four Tops and The Story." Consisting of guitarist Pat

Graybeal and guitarist Brian Gundersdorf, We're About 9 describes itself as a "three-part-harmony-singer-songwriter-adult-alternative-contemporary-americana-folk-niche" group with a "mercilessly charming stage presence."

Wild Asparagus

One of the most popular and sought-after contradance bands in America, Wild Asparagus hails from western Massachusetts and consists of David Cantieni on wind instruments (including saxophone!); Ann Percival on piano, guitar and vocals; George Marshall on Concertina, bodhran and doing the calling; bassist Stuart Kenney; Keith Murphy on mandolin, guitar, piano and foot percussion and Becky Tracy on fiddle. The band rocks with traditional tunes from the British Isles, France, Canada and New England and has released six recordings on its own label.

The Zucchini Brothers

"The Beatles of Kids' Music" is a phrase that has been used to describe the three Zucchini Brothers — Jack, Steve and Sam — who hail from Saratoga Springs. Winners of the NAPPA Gold Award and the Parents' Choice Gold Award, the Zucchini Brothers have produced their own radio show, made two records and have prompted at least one parent of a five-year-old to worry that her kid will by a VW microbus and start following the group from show to show.
