HAPPY ANNIVERSARY!

...to Clearwater & Croton Point Park

THIS IS A YEAR TO CELEBRATE!

Eighty years ago, Croton Point became a Westchester County park, the crown jewel in a county unparalleled in its support of public open spaces.

Thirty-five years ago the sloop Clearwater was launched, beginning a tradition of education and stewardship to clean up our treasured river. In recognition of its role as America's environmental flagship, Clearwater was named to the National Register of Historic Places last month.

Building on these legacies of excellence, Clearwater and Westchester County are proud to bring you the Great Hudson River Revival.

We welcome you to enjoy a remarkable river festival on the banks of the beautifully-maintained Croton Point Park. It's a time to come together as a greater community, to appreciate the value of open space, clean water and fresh air. It's a time to join the continuing efforts to keep the Hudson Valley a wonderful place to live in for generations to come.

SPEAKING OF VOTING...

It's an election year, and everyone, right or left, rich or poor, agrees that for our democracy to work all Americans should vote. Come to the Voter Registration tent next to the Membership Oasis and find out how easy it is to register. Make your voice heard!

JOIN US—AND CHANGE THE WORLD

Clearwater is unique among environmental groups for practicing the lost art of one-on-one grassroots outreach. Whether science-based education or principled, ethically-driven advocacy, Clearwater reaches tens of thousands of people each year with ideas that are information-rich but easily-communicated—ideas that help people become better ambassadors for healthy communities and habitat.

Members provide the network that makes grassroots action possible. They become the voices of their communities, calling for clean water, clean air, energy independence and sustainable economies.

WELCOME BACK!

Greetings from the Festival Director

THE GREAT HUDSON RIVER REVIVAL 2004

Hello everyone! Welcome to Clearwater's thirty-eighth annual river festival. For almost four decades now this remarkable grassroots gathering has come together with songs and messages of environmental activism and has triumphed over some rough times. This special Clearwater community celebration has endured many trials, landfill pollution, a move far way from the river, hard rains, and even a couple of tropical storms. Last year's festival was particularly challenging as the festival experienced its most difficult tribulation, for the first time, calling the future of the Clearwater Festival into question. But as you can see, we have overcome. Thank you to everyone, the volunteers and supporters who have made this extraordinary festival possible.

This festival has lived up to its name, The Great Hudson River Revival. I believe this unique event is a testimony to the strength we have as a community to persevere through the most difficult of times. And it's in these most difficult times that we need to gather together in strength to fend off the many attacks against the environment, peace and justice that will come like hard rain. But, like the Hudson River this festival, a symbol of community, will keep rollin' along, and will continue to do until the river runs clear.

I believe this unique event is a testimony to the strength we have as a community to persevere through the most difficult of times.

THANK YOU FOR JOINING US IN OUR CELEBRATION OF THE RIVER!

WELCOME TO CLEARWATER'S

HUDSON RIVER DISCOVERY TENT!

by Chris Bower, Education Director

Capture a firsthand glimpse into the ecology, environment, and history of the Hudson at Clearwater's Hudson River Discovery Tent. We've expanded to make room for both our favorite traditional exhibits and new displays. We're hosting a variety of organizations and hands-on activities under one big banner. Volunteer educators are on hand to answer questions and help you explore some of the mysteries of the Hudson River, so come on in!

Don't miss a great opportunity to see fish and crustaceans up close in our aquariums. Three tanks house species from freshwater, brackish, and saltwater communities.

- HUDSON BASIN RIVERWATCH returns with fantastic aquatic invertebrate displays. Kids (of all ages) can check out the watershed's creepy crawlies with microscopes and projectors.
- The NYS Department of Environmental Conservation's Hudson River Estuary Program has brought their SIX-FOOT ATLANTIC STURGEON model and other interesting treats. (The real fish can grow up to a dozen feet long!)
- Sift through the sand to find treasures from the river's banks at our BEACHCOMBING TABLE. Check out sturgeon plates, crab shells, signature bricks, and some lovely "devil's heads."
- The Poughkeepsie Water Treatment Plant has helped us build an EROSION TANK, demonstrating the effects of run-off when you remove wetlands and vegetation from stream banks.
- John Seekamp has brought us his internationally known seven-foot scale MODEL OF CLEARWATER, a meticulous replica that is detailed right down to the deck brooms stowed in the brine barrel.

CLEARWATER EDUCATION THROUGHOUT THE WATERSHED...

SINCE 1969, the Hudson River Sloop Clearwater has been a powerful force of change on the river. In addition to the incredible outreach power of Revival, Clearwater's ship, shore, and classroom-based education programs help over 15,000 students and citizens discover their river each year.

OUR TRADITIONAL PROGRAMS include Classroom of the Waves sails aboard the sloop Clearwater and schooner Mystic Whaler, Tideline Discovery programs at appropriate riverfront parks, and a diverse array of classroom activities and learning tools. To find out more about these programs, pick up a copy of Clearwater's New Hudson River School Education Brochure at the Discovery Tent.

ALL OF OUR PROGRAMS are staffed by professional environmental educators and crew. Each program blends hands-on, tactile experiences with current academic learning standards. We tailor our programs to fit the needs of every group, but a common goal runs throughout: Respect and understanding of the Hudson River's natural and cultural communities.

NEW INITIATIVES & PROJECTS: 2004

- Better volunteer tools, such as our improved, online VOLUNTEER EDUCATOR GUIDE, and an introductory video on ship-board education stations, available to rent.

- THE HUDSON RIVER JOURNAL, an interactive and informative eight-page booklet, for students to take home after their CLASSROOM OF THE WAVES program.

- A new high school curriculum package, EMPHATICALLY EMERSON, that uses the writing of Ralph Waldo Emerson as a foundation for exploring environmental ethics.

- Expanded teacher-training opportunities for educators serving college, K-12 and nonprofit organizations. These range from one-day seminars to full-semester courses.

- New stations & options for both our ship-board & land-based education field trips, including WORKSHOP OF THE WAVES sails.

- THE CHRISTOPHER STUTLER SCHOLARSHIP teams up high school students from the Croton-Harmon High School with an elementary school class in Yonkers. Through classroom programs & shipboard experiences, the Scholarship builds future mentors and stewards.

Over the Spring Semester, student interns from Marist

College, Vassar College, Bard College, and the State University of New York (SUNY) at New Paltz researched their schools' energy use and conducted audits to assess energy efficiency, in a collaborative effort guided by Hudson River Sloop Clearwater's Environmental Action staff.

This unique program set out to explore innovative techniques and programs that have been implemented to promote conservation, energy efficiency, and renewable energy at local colleges, as well as to make recommendations to further improve these areas.

The results of the intercollegiate Energy Audit indicate that local colleges are beginning to understand and embrace the benefits of energy efficiency for both cost savings and pollution prevention. Energy efficiency initiatives in place today include electric cars, LED exit signs, double-paned insulated windows, Energy Star rated appliances, and ultra-efficient T8 fluorescent bulbs. Geothermal heat pump systems, which use the constant temperature of the Earth for heating and cooling, have been installed in new buildings at both Bard and Vassar College.

Even so, the students were able to identify significant ways that their colleges could save energy, especially in older campus buildings. Suggested improvements included installing programmable thermostats, replacing incandescent bulbs with compact fluorescents, weather-stripping around doors and windows, and installing motion sensors to automatically control lighting. Inexpensive improvements such as these can pay for themselves quickly though reduced the avoided energy costs.

The program also investigated the use of renewable sources of electricity, such as solar and wind, but found that none of the schools are utilizing these resources to any significant extent. The schools have all demonstrated that they are moving toward energy efficiency, but there is still a tremendous opportunity for them to pursue clean, readily available renewable energy sources by installing solar panels, using biodiesel, or purchasing wind power.

The student interns hope this intercollegiate energy audit will foster ongoing discussions of energy issues between the area colleges, their students, and the local community. With this in mind, the students coordinated an Earth Day Energy Forum that was held at Marist College on April 20. The well-attended event featured presentations by industry leaders in solar power, wind power, and geothermal systems, as well a presentation on incentive programs available from the New York State Energy Research and Development Authority.

The student interns participating in the four-campus audit were committed to providing their schools with reliable, objective information and constructive suggestions for saving money, reducing energy use, and finding opportunities to use renewable resources. Moira Dwyer of Marist College explains, "Student participation is critical to successfully conserve energy at our schools." She adds, "The schools have a special responsibility to set a good example for their students by demonstrating sustainable living practices, including the use of renewable energy."

Vassar College intern Carolina Lukac elaborates, "The collaborative effort that went into this project was highly rewarding. Working alongside students from other colleges has shown me that environmental action can happen on a regional scale." She adds, "We've all come away with increased energy and inspiration to actively pursue energy efficiency and renewable energy in our own lives and communities."

Celebrating America's

ENVIRONMENTAL FLAGSHIP

The Clearwater was named to the National Register of Historic Places in May 2004 in recognition of its "exceptional significance in the history of environmental activism." In 1966, Pete Seeger and many friends launched the effort to "build a boat to save the river." They believed a majestic replica of the sloops that sailed the Hudson in the 18th and 19th centuries would bring people down to the river where direct experience of its beauty, fragility and desperate plight would make them want to protect it and restore its health. Over more than three decades, Pete's original conception has grown into an innovative template for environmental education and grassroots advocacy replicated by organizations around the world. In the 35 years since the sloop's launch on May 17, 1969, Clearwater members have initiated or joined virtually every significant battle to protect the Hudson River.

Many of Clearwater's original founders gathered on Hudson River Park's Pier 40 in New York City to mark the sloop's 35th birthday and to celebrate its placement on the National Register. Clearwater designer Cy Hamlin, first captain Allan Aunapu, and founders Pete Seeger, Toshi Seeger, Don Presutti, Helene Remer, Hal and Debbie C. Vic Schwarz, Sandy Saunders, Stan Dickstein, Tom Winslow, Waivada, and Robert and Barbara Bielenberg were on hand to receive plaques made from the Clearwater's original deck in recognition of their role in making the sloop a reality!

New York Commissioner of Parks, Recreation and Historic Preservation Bernadette Castro announced the National Register listing at a May 13th news conference, joined by the Little Sloop Singers, Poughkeepsie Day School, officials of Hudson River Park and many long-time Clearwater supporters. The sloop was named to the New York State Register of Historic Places on February 17, 2004.

OUR WORK DEPENDS ON YOUR SUPPORT

- The passage of the Clean Water Act of 1972, a milestone in the nation's history of environmental protection, began to take shape in 1970 when Pete Seeger joined the crew and sailed the Clearwater to Washington, holding an impromptu concert in the House of Representatives office building.

- Frustrated with ongoing efforts to get action from the state environmental agency, Clearwater went to the New York Times in 1975 with the story that General Electric's PCBs were poisoning Hudson River fish. This launched the 25-year battle between environmentalists and the nation's wealthiest – and arguably most intransigent – corporation. Clearwater later collected 67 municipal resolutions and more than 11,000 petition signatures

- to secure the EPA's Record of Decision in 2001 ordering GE to clean up the Hudson.

- Clearwater worked to defeat a massive development project on Manhattan's riverfront, then helped craft and support passage of the Hudson River Park Act.

- Clearwater's ability to organize at the community level makes it a critical partner in campaigns to optimize results of the National Resource Damage Assessment in the PCB cleanup, to ensure that Hudson River power plants comply with the Clean Water Act, to bring about smart growth throughout the Hudson Valley, and to develop a sustainable energy policy for New York State.

"SING PROUDLY FOR OUR GOLDEN RIVER, PRAISING OUR GOLDEN RIVER, WHAT THE POWER OF THE PEOPLE AND THE RIVER CAN DO!"

CELEBRATING THE PEOPLE'S BOAT, THE PEOPLE'S RIVER

Pete Seeger with Henry Wallace, 1948

To hear that the Hudson River Sloop Clearwater, "America's Environmental Flagship," has been added to the National Register, one would think that Clearwater has always had a harmonious relationship with the federal government, and that acknowledging the sloop's environmental role was an obvious designation.

Not so! If you've ever been part of an environmental movement, you know that change is extremely slow and frustrating. The journey of our boat has been no easier.

Clearwater—the sloop and the organization—had to weather all the political elements to play its crucial role in the environmental movement, but that didn't stop them from participating in many landmark efforts. They planted seeds in 1969 that grew into the first Earth Day in 1970, rallied support, song by song, for the Clean Water Act of 1972, and, of course, worked for over 35 years to clean up the Hudson River. This sea change has been so successful that today we can swim in the river and discover a growing diversity of river life, from seahorses to seals!

Please join us at the Festival's Finale in saluting the sloop Clearwater

Clearwater planted seeds that grew into the first Earth Day in 1970, rallied support, song by song, for the Clean Water Act of 1972, and worked for over 35 years to clean up the Hudson River.

and the great distance it has come, the river growing cleaner with every mile. Pete Seeger will lead the music, and before we blow out the candles on the cake, we invite you to sing with us. Instead of "Happy Birthday, Pete!" we'll sing "Sailing Down My Golden River" to mark a promise fulfilled and hard work rewarded.

Take a lesson from the National Register and Clearwater: people's movements work. Your voice and your vote are important. What looks futile today could very well lead to accomplishments that will be revered tomorrow. Thank you for coming to the Festival & celebrating Clearwater's milestone year, and for keeping the dream of a golden river alive.

ANNOUNCING CLEARWATER'S (first ever!) GREEN LIVING EXPO

PRODUCTS & SERVICES FOR SUSTAINABLE LIFESTYLE TODAY.

This year's Revival debuts Clearwater's first Green Living Expo, featuring businesses that exemplify a new, thriving, green economy. From its beginnings as a folk picnic in 1966, the festival that saved a river has been a showcase for renewable energy and other consumer choices that help create a greener future. This year we bring together consumers and providers in a marketplace that proactively supports the growth of green businesses in the Hudson Valley.

Learn how to have a luscious garden without using chemical pesticides and fertilizers; how to invest your money wisely, how to insulate your house using recycled, fire-retardant newspaper fibers; how to use the 50-degree temperature of the earth to heat and cool your home; and how photovoltaic solar cells can run your electric meter backwards, allowing you to sell as much energy to the grid as you buy by net-metering! Also discover career opportunities in green businesses, how kids can help make a difference, and how you can vote with your dollars for a truly sustainable future...and save money and resources while doing so. These are model businesses that prosper by working in harmony with the natural environment, without exceeding its capacity to be sustained over time.

GREEN LIVING EXPO FEATURES EXHIBITORS & PRESENTERS IN THE AREAS OF:

- Sustainable lawn, garden and landscape care
- Socially-responsible financial management
- Green building methods and materials
- Products made from reused, recycled, or non-toxic materials, and those that increase energy efficiency
- Renewable resources and energy

Green Power is clean power.

Today you have a choice in how your electricity is produced in New York State. And one smart, easy choice you can make is to buy some or all of your electricity as Green Power, which comes from clean, renewable sources like the wind, sun and water. Green Power:

- Produces fewer environmental impacts than fossil fuels
- Reduces use of imported fossil fuels
- Improves air quality and helps reduce respiratory illness

For a list of Green Power service providers, call 1-866-GRN-POWR. No matter which provider you choose, the delivery of your electricity will be as safe and reliable as before.

For only a few pennies more a day, you can make a world of difference for generations to come.

at the Clearwater Festival

EXPERIENCE THE PLEASURE OF BOATING ON THE HUDSON RIVER. RIDE IN A SMALL BOAT OR SAIL ON A TALL SHIP!

The WORKING WATERFRONT at the Clearwater Festival is located on a beautiful spot in Croton Point Park with easy access to the river, small and large boat exhibits and environmental educational tours. Learn why Clearwater has been so active in the preservation and restoration of the Hudson. Larger working boats are expected on the bay and will be open for tours and visits. There will also be sails on the tall ships: sloop Clearwater and schooner Pioneer.

Music will also be part of the fun down at the waterfront. Near THE CIRCLE OF SONG and THE SHOWCASE STAGE will be presented informal participatory sing-a-longs with some of the main stage performers.

Come play at our

CHILDREN'S AREA!

COME PLAY WITH YOUR WHOLE FAMILY IN A MAGICAL SETTING IN THE MIDDLE OF AN AMAZING FESTIVAL!

THE CHILDREN'S AREA is a distinctively creative and inspired activity area for kids and parents alike. This unique non-competitive play area is filled with interactive games that will teach, engage and challenge toddlers to young teens, and even parents. With bubbles and laughter floating around the Croton Park's play structure of slides and ladders, the festival's Children's Area spreads out under the SHADE TREES providing more wonderful outlets for releasing young creative energy.

THE CHILDREN'S AREA IS CREATED AND STAFFED BY THE PARENTS, ALUMNI AND TEACHERS OF THE RANDOLPH SCHOOL IN WAPPINGERS FALLS, NY, A SCHOOL DEDICATED TO CREATIVE, HOLISTIC LEARNING, SELF-RELIANCE, AND RESPECT FOR NATURE, OURSELVES AND EACH OTHER. WHILE THE CHILDREN'S AREA IS FULLY STAFFED DURING THE FESTIVAL, IT IS NOT DESIGNED FOR CHILD CARE. CHILDREN UNDER THE AGE OF EIGHT MUST BRING ALONG A GROWN-UP.

SOME OF THE ACTIVITIES YOU'LL DISCOVER IN THIS ENCHANTED LOCATION...

Free Graffiti Chalkboard • Wet and Wild Water Play Station • Mountains of Clay • A Different Kind of SANDBOX • Don't miss crossing the tricky 30-foot-long Three Rope Bridge spanning two large oaks several feet off the ground.

SLOOP CLUBS!

SLOOP CLUBS ARE AFFILIATES OF CLEARWATER, DEDICATED to carrying out the organization's purposes in their own localities through education, advocacy, celebration, and often by sailing. Each club has its own character and emphasis: raising public awareness of the river as a natural and recreational resource; promoting sound ecological practices; and educating about watershed ecology, responsible and irresponsible uses of natural resources, and methods of remediating existing problems. The clubs support knowledge and love of the river through concerts, festivals, lectures, publications, potluck dinners, picnics, song parties, education and sailing programs. Contact a club for more info about its activities, meetings, dues, etc. Each club is granted an annual Sloop Club Sail aboard the Clearwater.

WE OFFER WARMEST THANKS TO ALL OUR VOLUNTEERS!

Look around, and you'll see nearly 800 volunteers working for the festival, in the Clearwater Store, the Box Office, the Membership Oasis, Peacekeeping, Access, Litterpicking/Recycling, and the many other teams which collaborate to make the festival a success.

Over 50 Coordinators help to plan and organize the festival. Some have been attending planning meetings all year long. Site Crew has been on site for weeks, building the features of the festival; some will be here working for a week afterward.

This year, for the first time, every Revival volunteer is a Clearwater member, and we are so grateful for this deepened support!

In the Sloop Club area, you'll find people who are among Clearwater's most committed volunteers. These local groups do outreach, fundraising, and other work in support of Clearwater's mission.

Next year, think about seeing the festival as a volunteer!

We'd rather preserve the planet than our yogurt.

What makes Stonyfield Farm different? Integrity instead of toxic persistent pesticides. Honesty instead of artificial colors. Passion instead of preservatives.

We make our yogurt the best way we know how; with a family recipe that calls for only all natural and organic ingredients. And because we believe healthy food only comes from a healthy planet, we give back to the earth that's given us so much.

Stonyfield Farm donates 10% of our profits to causes that restore the earth. And we support family farmers who pledge not to use synthetic bovine growth hormone on their cows. This commitment to the environment is shared by our people and our customers.

And if all this makes us a different kind of yogurt maker, then that's fine with us.

POISON IVY COMES A-CREEPIN'

Keep your eyes open and your hands off any poison ivy (RHUS TOXICODENDRON) at the Revival. The site crew has done a great job of wrapping plastic around some of the biggest patches growing on trees, but there are still a few leaves to beware of.

The big clue for poison ivy is three leaves. Often shiny, sometimes dull; often dark green, sometimes light; but always a trio of leaves off each stem. Poison ivy usually grows close to the ground or along tree trunks and shrubs as hairy vines.

If you do get into some ivy, wash the affected area with soapy water as soon as you can. Visit the First Aid tent if you start getting a rash, feel itchy, or have any questions.

Volunteer Aboard the Clearwater

DOES FULFILLING WORK AND HEARTY FOOD SOUND REFRESHING? WOULD DAYS AND NIGHTS VISITING SOME OF THE HUDSON'S MOST BEAUTIFUL

areas be intriguing? Does working with talented crew to sail a 100-foot tall ship and inspire young minds about the river seem like a great way to spend a week?

If you answered "yes", you should sign up to volunteer aboard the sloop Clearwater (joined by the Mystic Whaler each spring). Each week, five or six volunteers join our professional on-board crew. From the Catskills to New York City, Clearwater educates over 15,000 people annually, and weekly volunteers are absolutely crucial to these efforts.

So come out and give the sailor's life a chance. You'll be helping a good cause, and giving yourself a truly rewarding experience.
